Oklahoma State Senate

2016 Session Overview

The 2016 Oklahoma Legislature convened on Monday, February 1, 2016, and adjourned sine die on May 27, 2016, as required in the Oklahoma Constitution.

The Senate welcomed Senator J.J. Dossett, who was sworn in mid-session after he was elected in a special election. The Senate bade farewell to the class of 2004--Senators Patrick Anderson, Don Barrington, Brian Bingman, Brian Crain, John Ford, Earl Garrison, Clark Jolley, Ron Justice, Mike Mazzei, Susan Paddock and Charlie Wyrick--who were unable to run again due to term limits, and Senator Jim Halligan, who chose not to seek re-election.

While the state budget always commands much time and attention, the primary issue before the 2016 Legislature related to the shortfall of revenues in fiscal year 2016 and a downturn in the amount of revenue available for appropriation in fiscal year 2017, amounting to approximately $1.3 billion. The Legislature enacted various revenue enhancements along with targeted budget cuts to develop a balanced budget as required in Section 23 of Article X of the Oklahoma Constitution. Despite the shortfall and the hard choices it forced, critical funding for education and health care was preserved.

The Legislature considered 1,822 bills and joint resolutions, of which 173 Senate measures and 190 House measures became law (along with 1,724 measures carried over from the 2015 session, of which 18 Senate measures and 13 House measures became law). Governor Mary Fallin vetoed 4 measures, along with one section of the general appropriations bill. Another two measures referred state questions to the voters for action at the November 2016 election.

With respect to specific issues, general appropriations for state government for fiscal year 2017 were included in SB 1616. The Legislature also enacted legislation to refer a constitutional amendment to the voters which, if approved, will significantly change the system for selling alcoholic beverages in Oklahoma (SJR 68), along with a comprehensive rewrite of the alcoholic beverage code (SB 383). An additional $125 million in bond funding to renovate the State Capitol was also approved (HB 3168). Significant reform in the area of school testing (HB 3218) was also enacted with bipartisan support.

Senate leadership agenda items passed in 2016 include:
