Whereas, Since said date the Supreme Court of the State of Oklahoma has held that said measure was not legally adopted because of defects in the procedure under which said measure was submitted; and,

Whereas, By reason of the necessity to permanently determine and settle the location of the State Capital and to carry out the expressed will of the people as declared in said election, an extraordinary occasion exists within the meaning of the Constitution requiring that the Legislature be convoked in special and extraordinary session; and,

Whereas, In my opinion the public welfare requires that said extraordinary and special session shall be convoked at Oklahoma City;

Now, Therefore, I, C. N. Haskell, Governor of the State of Oklahoma, by virtue of the authority vested in me, and for the reasons aforesaid, DO HEREBY CONVOKE AND CALL THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF OKLAHOMA to meet at Oklahoma City at twelve o'clock noon on Monday, the twenty-eighth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and ten.

The governor was introduced then by the president of the Senate and delivered his message in writing as follows:

"Executive Department, State of Oklahoma.

To the Third Legislature assembled in Extraordinary Session to Enact Such Law as You Deem Proper Relating to the Location of the Seat of State Government and to Provide for Capitol Buildings, Grounds, and Other Things Pertaining Thereto:

I submit to you that the government of our State is founded upon the right of the people of the State to control the affairs of State.

That when the people have spoken it is the duty of all public officers to carry out the express will of the people.

The location of the seat of State government and the creation of the necessary buildings is a matter of convenience to the people and a matter of right which no other power should seek to take away.

A brief history from the beginning of Oklahoma Territorial government to the present, touching this question is of interest to all of us. The Organic Act of Oklahoma Territory established the seat of government at the city of Guthrie subject to the will of the people of the Territory thereafter. The Territory having been organized, settled, and the Legislature elected by the people to represent them thereafter the Territorial Legislature enacted a law locating the Capital at Oklahoma City. This was the express will of the people through their Legislature. The Governor of the Territory, holding office by appointment, vetoed this bill.

Thereafter the Legislature enacted another law locating the Capital at the city of Kingfisher, and when this law came before the Governor, holding office by appointment, the will of the people as expressed by the Legislature was again vetoed, and later we find that representatives of the city of Guthrie secured an amendment known as a "rider" upon an appropriation bill in Congress, the language, in part, being as follows, referring to the Territory of Oklahoma:

"That the Legislative assembly shall not consider any proposition or pass any bill to remove the seat of government of said Territory from its present location, etc., etc."

This will be found in thirty-second volume, United States Statutes at Large, page one hundred forty-eight, and was for the purpose only of denying the people of Oklahoma Territory of the right to regulate their own internal affairs and closed the incident against the will of the people until the time came for formulating the language that should be written into the Enabling Act to provide for State government in Oklahoma and Indian Territories.

The Constitution of the United States gave Congress no power whatever to deprive the people of this State of all the rights and privileges possessed by all the other states already in the Union, but, unmindful of and without consulting two hundred fifty thousand voters of the two Territories, a committee of three men present in Washington sought again to destroy the will of the people and to favor a single particular city of our State and caused to be placed in the Statehood Bill a provision directing that the Capital of the new State should remain at the City of Guthrie for a period of practically six years longer.

The Supreme Court of the United States and the Supreme Court of our own State have declared the law to be that the people of Oklahoma alone have the right at all times to locate their own State Capital and that the suggestion of Congress was without any force and effect and could not lawfully deprive our people of the right to locate their own Capital whenever and where they might see fit.

In the exercise of this right of self government the First Legislature of the State of Oklahoma submitted to the people two propositions pertaining to a State Capital and which were voted on at the regular election in November, nineteen hundred and eight.

The first of these propositions, intending to give the right to locate the State Capital, received 120,352 votes "Yes" against 71,933 votes "No."

The second proposition, being what has been familiarly known as the "New Jerusalem" plan of a Capital city, received 117,441 votes "Yes" against 75,792 votes "No," so that it will be seen that all of the votes cast on these measures upwards of forty thousand majority declared in favor of each proposition and due solely to the fact that a majority of the people who voted for office candidates at said election did not participate in the Capital election.

These bills failed to become operative but clearly indicated that the people of the State desired to have their Capital location settled and shortly thereafter the people of the State, by petition, initiated a bill in the fall of nineteen hundred and nine on which they demanded the right to vote again on the Capital question, and after several months of litigation and dilatory tactics this measure came to a vote on the eleventh day of June, nineteen hundred and ten, and by a majority of fifty-six thousand, five hundred fifty-eight the people of the State of Oklahoma declared that the seat of State government should be in or within five miles of Oklahoma City.

And again, in the face of the express will of the people, the most determined litigation was instituted and finally resulted in the Supreme Court of our State sustaining the clear right of the people to locate their Capital as they had sought to do, but owing to defect in the legal phraseology, which in no way affected the substance and intent of the bill, our Supreme Court found it necessary to set this act aside but clearly pointed out that the State Legislature might enact the necessary State Capital legislation if it desired so to do, and, finding that every purpose and intent of the law sought to be enacted by the people may be made effective by act of the Legislature, I, therefore in pursuance of my duty as governor of this State, submit to your honorable body this question and recommend that, without departing from the substance of the law which the people sought to enact, you do enact the same into law in form and substance as was the intent of the people, omitting therefrom the section which appropriated six hundred thousand dollars of public moneys to be used for Capital purposes. I ask that this appropriation be omitted from the bill because we find it possible to secure grounds and erect buildings without the necessity of taking a single dollar from the public funds. I recommend this to you because the people have decided the question expressing their will by such a large majority, and because of the form of government of the State of Oklahoma the will of the people is the supreme law of the State.

I have also to report to you that prior to the election on June eleventh, when the Capital bill was adopted, I had invited all cities candidate for Capital honors to make tender to the people of the State of such contributions to the expense of Capitol buildings as they might see fit. Numerous propositions were submitted and which I promptly published in full to all the people of the State, so that the people voted fully knowing what the several propositions were.

The people selected Oklahoma City, including its five mile surroundings as their choice. This included four distinct sites and propositions any one of which would probably have given the State a free site and an ample Capitol building costing substantially one million, five hundred thousand dollars.

Proceeding under this act a Capitol Commission was appointed which selected the proposition offered which was closest to the Oklahoma City limits and by the substitution of lands in part nearest the city a compact area was obtained with its most remote point even two miles nearer the city than the remote point of the nearest proposition, and a contract was entered into by the terms of which sixteen hundred acres of free land supplemented by one hundred thousand dollars of cash was placed as a guarantee that from the proceeds of sale of lots the State should have the following sums of money before the guarantors should be reimbursed with any of their surplus lands or of any of their one hundred thousand dollars in cash, to-wit:

For Capitol building purposes one million, five hundred thousand dollars.

For furniture, fixtures and ground improvements one hundred fifty thousand dollars.

For salaries and expenses of commissioners, clerical and other expenses, forty thousand dollars.

For all incidental expenses of the State in removing its offices, records, etc., from Guthrie to the new Capitol building ten thousand dollars.

Total, free to the State, one million, seven hundred thousand dollars, without the State paying or even advancing a single dollar of the people's money.

This site was found to be well suited for a beautiful Capitol suburb to Oklahoma City, and as a means of transportation, in addition to the existing single track street railway, a more direct double track boulevard line is assured under a written contract and by the terms of which the rate of fare is never to exceed five cents from any point in the city to the Capitol building.

At the time these contracts were made the bill adopted by the people was in litigation and, therefore, all deeds and contracts were deposited with a trustee to surrender to the State of Oklahoma in case the court held the Capital law valid and the time limit was fixed at about December twentieth, nineteen hundred and ten, so that, notwithstanding the court declared said law invalid, in case now your honorable body shall enact the substance of said act of the people into law before December twentieth the same contracts and donations will be available although not obligatory upon the State, and I call attention to this, that the enactment of this law will leave the State free to consider any other or better propositions that may be made always keeping in mind that if nothing better is offered by the twentieth day of December that the State still has the opportunity to accept the donations above tendered, and that the interest of the State alone will be considered by us.

In conclusion, I call your attention to the following facts:

By a direct vote of the people, or through their representatives elected to the Legislature, the question of changing the Capital City has five times been voted upon and every time the vote has carried to change the Capital.

I call your attention to the fact that Guthrie has no claim, legal, equitable or moral, to the honor of being the Capital City. It has at all times sought to defeat the will of the people by an appointed governor's veto, by court litigation or by acts of Congress unwarranted and unauthorized; that Guthrie has at all times received substantial payment from the people for every favor the Territory or the State has had. Our taxpayers are even yet today paying substantially twenty-three thousand dollars per year for the rent and maintenance of offices in Guthrie; that this special session of the Legislature was necessary in order to save the existing contract expiring on December twentieth in case no more desirable tender is made the State, and that the entire expense of this special session need not equal more than six months' office rent now being paid at the present Capital, and that it places Oklahoma in the position of having the city favored by the people with the seat of State government share the profits with the taxpayers of the State to the end that an ample State Capitol building, furnished and ready for use, will be acquired by the State free from cost of a single dollar to our taxpayers, and to those who say that Oklahoma is a great rich State and should not object to assessing its taxpayers for the cost of Capitol building and equipment, I desire to reply that no business man or corporation ever grows so rich but what in making its location to the favor of any city or community it invariably expects that community to share the profit in dollars and cents and that it is your duty and my duty as official representatives of our people to conduct their business with the same care and interest and the same economy that the shrewdest business man of our State would conduct his own private business.

Gentlemen of the Legislature, I have completed the duty devolving upon me and it rests with you solely and in your own judgment to give the people in substance and effect the law that they clearly intended to adopt.

Respectfully submitted,

C. N. HASKELL,
Governor.

'Except wherein otherwise provided in this Constitution, in no case shall the salary or emoluments of any public official be changed after his election or appointment, or during his term of office, unless by operation of law enacted prior to such election or appointment; nor shall the term of any public official be extended beyond the period for which he was elected or appointed, provided, that all officers within this State shall continue to perform the duties of their offices until their successors shall be duly qualified.

Your committee further reports that in its opinion, if the terms of this Bill were such that it could be construed to take effect in the future, after the expiration of the in-coming term of the commissioner of charities and corrections, it would be constitutional.

Respectfully submitted,

JESSE M. HATCHETT,
R. T. POTTER."

Senator Franklin submitted the following report in behalf of the special committee appointed on Senate Bill No. 5, in behalf of the minority:

MINORITY REPORT
ON THE LEGALITY OF SENATE BILL NO. 5

Mr. President:

I beg leave to differ from the majority of the members of the special committee to which was referred Senate Bill No. 5. I recommend that the same do pass without amendment.

After examining a number of authorities, I believe that the great weight of authority supports the two positions that I have heretofore taken in regard to this bill, to-wit: First. That until the salary of a State officer has once been fixed by law, which has been interpreted to mean by statute, the provisions of the Constitution that the salary or emoluments of any public official can not be changed after his election or appointment, or during his term of office, does not apply. Second. That there is no election or the election is not complete until the returns of the general election are sealed up and transmitted by the returning officers to the secretary of state, directed to the speaker of the House of Representatives, and the result of the election is published in the presence of a majority of each branch of the Legislature, and the result is declared as provided for in Section 5, Article 6 of the Constitution.

In support of the first contention we find that Section 15 of the Schedule to our Constitution provides that 'until otherwise provided by law, the officers of the State shall receive annually as compensation for their services the following amounts.' The words 'until otherwise provided by law' have been construed by a number of courts to mean 'until otherwise provided for by statute.' When we refer to Section 10 of Article 23 of the Constitution, which prevents the changing of the salary or emoluments after election or appointment or during the term of office, we find that the same contains an exception—'except wherein otherwise provided in this Constitution.' As stated, it is otherwise provided that the Legislature may change the salaries of State officers as fixed in the Schedule. When they are once fixed by law, which has been interpreted to mean by statute, the words 'except wherein otherwise provided in this Constitution,' in the section prohibiting the changing of salary or emoluments, can be eliminated and the section applied as was evidently intended, by making that exception. If this is not a proper construction, the words 'except wherein otherwise provided in this Constitution' are meaningless and can serve no purpose.

I think we have sufficient judicial construction of similar constitutional provisions to justify this construction of our Constitution.

I think that Section 5 of Article 6 of the Constitution settles the second position when it provides for the canvassing the returns of the general election and the declaring of the result of the election.

It is my contention that there is no election until the last thing has been done which must be done under our statutes and the result declared as provided for by our Constitution. A person who has requested his name to be placed upon the ballot is subject to be voted for at the primary election. If he receive a majority at the primary election he is subject to be voted for in the general election and if nominated in the general election, he is subject to be declared elected by the proper authority and his election is not complete until all the machinery of election laws, including the statute and the Constitution, have been complied with and the result of the election declared by the proper authorities.

There is ample authority holding that the mere fact that one has been voted for or is subject to be declared elected is not sufficient to constitute an election, but one must be, to be elected, no longer a candidate, no longer a person just simply voted for, and no longer just subject to be declared elected, but one who is declared or admitted to be elected and who has received or is found entitled to receive the certificate of election. This position is supported by good authority. When an election has once been declared by the proper authority the Supreme Court, in the case of Taylor and Marshall vs. Beckham, held that the courts would not go back of the result declared, especially when the discretion in declaring the result was in the General Assembly having the power under the Constitution to canvass and declare the result of the election and that the claimant to the emoluments of an office who had not been declared elected by the proper authority had no legal or equitable interest in the emoluments of that office.

It is my contention that the election of the commissioner of charities and corrections for the term commencing the second Monday in January, 1911, is not completed and that Senate Bill No. 5 would be legal if it was admitted that the Legislature could not change the salary of the commissioner of charities and corrections after the election or during her term of office, and I might further contend that so far no certificate of election has been issued and so far there is nothing to indicate in the way pointed out by law, who has received the majority of the votes for commissioner of charities and corrections in the general election.

There have been about one-half a million adjudicated cases in the United States but there has been conflicting decisions from most of these. I believe that the great weight of authority sustains the contentions that I make but I understand that there is a Colorado case which holds against one of the contentions that I make, but that case was never appealed, and I do not think that it is supported by respectable authorities upon the issues decided in that case.

It has been said that 'you can convince a person against their will and they will be of the same opinion still,' and it can truthfully be said that one who objects to a measure can find some kind of authority to support his contention, but if there is any doubt as to the legality of Senate Bill No. 5 I believe the same should be passed and an opportunity be given the Supreme Court of our State to determine the matter.

I would not in any way try to reflect upon the other members of the committee, for they are able lawyers and I believe they have been conscientious in their investigation of the matter submitted to us.

It is pretty generally agreed that the salary of the commissioner of charities and corrections should be raised and in the interests of justice we should resolve any doubt that we might have in favor of what we think is just and right to this department.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. M. FRANKLIN."

Dec. 10th, 1910."

On motion of Senator Mitchell the report was adopted.

Senator Allen introduced the following concurrent resolution which was read as follows:

"SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 7

By ALLEN.

Whereas, The civilized nations of the world, including Great Britain and most of the continental nations, have enacted laws providing compensations for industrial accidents upon a basis of rightful compensation, and changing the basis from that of negligence, and,

Whereas, The Congress of the United States has attempted legislation looking towards this end in providing compensation for injuries received by working men on the Isthmian Canal; and,

Whereas, The various states of the American Union, including New York, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Illinois and Wisconsin, now have commissions provided by their respective state legislatures to investigate the question of compensation of working men for injuries received with the course of duty, and,

Whereas, The statistics of the United States show that the majority of the accidents that happen within the course of employment occur by reason of the dangers incident to employments, and without fault upon the part of either the employer or employe, which under our present system precludes any recovery for such injuries, thereby forcing the employe to bear the pain, physical suffering and financial loss caused thereby; and,

Whereas, Under our present system of laws "originally borrowed from England, but long since discarded by that progressive nation," the injured has no assurance of recovery for his accident, although he have a meritorious cause of action, and is forced to contribute from one-fourth to one-half of what he does recover for expenses and fees in the litigations necessary to a recovery, and,

Whereas, A very small percentage of the amount which the employer now pays to secure himself against accidents actually goes to compensate the man who is actually injured, and this goes in such uneven proportions and in such times and amounts as to render very little aid to the injured and those dependent upon him at the time and under the circumstances most needed, thereby causing great economical loss to the employer and to the employe, and,

Whereas, Under our present system of antiquated laws, accidents now generally mean law suits; law suits mean speculation; such speculation means hostility and such ill feeling between the employer and the employe that it leaves both parties in such fear and apprehension that their actual interest can not be best preserved and furthered, and,

Whereas, Under the present system, by reason of the untold thousands of accidents occurring within our State, the public is put to great expense in the administration of its courts, its hospitals, its charitable institutions, and individual citizens are greatly harrassed by its results; therefore be it

Resolved, By the Senate, the House concurring therein, that a joint committee consisting of three members from the Senate and three from the House be appointed for the purpose of investigating the question of industrial accidents and working men's compensation, and to accumulate all available statistics and laws of other states and nations bearing on said subject, and to formulate and to present to the next session of this Legislature such legislation as should be enacted covering this subject."

the State of Oklahoma on the site specified herein, and that the location of the permanent Capitol of the State of Oklahoma at or near Oklahoma City has been upheld by the Supreme Court of the State of Oklahoma as being effective either instant or after Nineteen Hundred Thirteen, A. D. Previous to the delivery of said deeds from the hands of the said depository as aforesaid, the said Commission shall be entitled to go into immediate possession of all the lands specified insofar as may be necessary in surveying and platting the same and doing any and all preliminary work which can be accomplished to hasten the progress of this work previous to the final adjudication in the Supreme Court of the State of Oklahoma of the legality of the action of the people of the State of Oklahoma in locating the said Capital of Oklahoma City either instant or after Nineteen Hundred Thirteen, A. D.; and pending such litigation, releases of mortgages outstanding on the property above scheduled, which would in any way tend to prejudice the holder should the final ruling of the court be adverse to the location of the Capital at Oklahoma City, as aforesaid, shall be executed and placed in escrow along with said deeds under like conditions only. This offer and each of the donations above set forth are made subject to the condition that the State Capitol Commission shall at all times hold subject to its direct supervision and control all moneys realized from the sale of said eighteen tracts of land and each and every parcel thereof, so that it shall not be necessary for the Legislature of the State of Oklahoma to authorize the payment or use of any of said money before the same may be used by said Capitol Commission to carry out the purpose of said offer and donations or the contract between said Statehouse Development Company and said Commission.

This offer is made subject to the further condition that the said State Capitol Commission make and enter into an agreement with Oklahoma Railway Company embodying substantially the following terms and conditions, to-wit:

vard; thence Southeastwardly to Tenth Street; thence East along the line of Tenth Street to about Lin Avenue; thence Southeast and parallel with the Rock Island railway to a junction with Linwood Boulevard and Virginia Avenue; or connecting with the junction of Linwood Boulevard and Thirteenth Street on route last described; thence in a Southeastwardly direction and crossing the Rock Island railway and North Canadian river and forming intersection with Main Street; or continuing Southeastwardly and forming intersection with Noble Avenue—or both—commencing at said Fortieth Street a Boulevard three hundred feet wide and extending to said junction of said tract with Thirteenth Street will be laid out, the middle one hundred feet of which Boulevard will be the right of way, above described, of the Oklahoma Railway Company. On each side of this right-of-way there shall be appropriated for parking a strip twenty-five feet in width, which strip shall be planted and cultivated by said Railway Company for a period of five years, after which the same shall be turned over to the Park Commission, or Department of Parks, of Oklahoma City, to which same shall be dedicated for park purposes, the Oklahoma Railway Company retaining no other interest therein than an easement of lateral support for its right of way, and the right to cross the same with inclined tracks, and the right to lay sidewalks across the same leading to and from station platforms and passenger landings, and the right to put in tracks to ascend or descend to or from its high speed line, hereafter described, to or from connecting surface lines along the sides of its right of way as may be needed or required in the future in the formation of junction * * * * * On its right of way, with right of subjacent and lateral support upon said strips of parking, said Company to have the right to erect its road-bed at an average height of about seven feet, or less if found practicable, above the natural surface of the ground, except at crossings, draws and short depressions when the ground level should be ignored. * * * * * Openings for intersecting streets under the tracks of the Company with center head room of eleven to twelve feet according to form of arch, shall be left and bridged approximately as follows:

Thirty-sixth street 1400 feet South of last on center line;
then 1200 feet South of last on center line;
then 1700 feet South of last on center line;
then 1900 feet South of last on center line;
then 1600 feet South of last on center line;
then 1300 feet South of last on center line
then 1500 feet South of last on center line.

Openings to be at least fifty feet wide from pier to pier and at least on concrete sidewalk; openings with eight feet of head room left between each street opening and no other streets, ways or highways to cross said railway, except as shown. The permanent plans for said railway and said bridges shall be submitted to and approved by said Capitol Commission. Said railway company to pave all intersecting streets, across the one hundred fifty foot strip comprising its right of way and said two strips of parking, and through and under its bridges, but to be under no obligation whatever to pave or bear any part of the expense of paving roadway or boulevard in the middle of which its said right of way lies. Said company will, as expeditiously as possible, construct a single track line from the end of the present Linwood line to said principal boulevard leading to the Capitol, and will have the same completed and in operation within thirty working days after the final adjudication on the Capitol location mentioned in this proposition. It will also excavate the roadway and parking on the East side of said principal boulevard and construct its two track fill from Linwood Boulevard to Fortieth Street, using the material so taken out to construct such fill, and will lay and construct at least one line of track thereon, using wooden trestles at street crossings, within four months from such final decision—barring accidents, strikes, or prolonged stormy or wet weather. It will also, whenever the Commission requires the West roadway for permanent paving, grade the same and complete the said four track fill with reasonable speed and shall likewise, whenever paving shall be ordered on that part of said principal boulevard from Linwood Boulevard Southeastwardly, grade its said roadbed and excavate said streets to the plans and grade prepared and approved, as aforesaid, and pave the intersecting streets whether occupied with tracks or not. The company will provide a service from said State Capitol to its Terminal building in Oklahoma City in twenty minutes running time, and will provide other tracks, bridges, high speed tracks, and other facilities, as needed in the fact of the growth and development of the communities served, to continue to maintain such running time, barring accidents, strikes or other causes beyond its control, and it is to be understood that between the beginning point of said high-speed line within about a mile of the business center of Oklahoma City to the said State Capitol, the said company will, as needed, elevate or depress its tracks from time to time as may be needed to maintain the time limit, above specified, or better time, so as to eliminate street crossings, and run non-stop cars from the center of Oklahoma City to said

State Capitol. Said railway company, in its ordinary street railway service, to furnish such transportation for passengers at the rate of five cents per passenger, reserving the right to charge a reasonable rate in excess of five cents for special services and accommodations in the nature of parlor cars or observation cars, if put in operation, between said business district of Oklahoma City and said State Capitol in connection with its interurban business. Said proposed line to be operated electrically but said company may use or permit the use by others of gasoline motor cars or gasoline electric motor cars and may during construction or by reason of accidents or breakdowns or other unavoidable casualty, when necessary, use steam as an auxiliary for operating power.

Senator Thompson reported on behalf of the Committee on Capital Location as follows:

"COMMITTEE REPORT

"Oklahoma City, Dec. 14, 1910.

Mr. President:

We, your Senate Capital Location Committee, to whom was referred substitute for Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 8, by Roddie, having had said substitute under consideration, beg to report same back to the Senate with the following suggestions and recommendations. We find that Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 8, by the Senate Capital Location Committee, contains a proposition made to this Legislature by certain residents and citizens of Oklahoma City, looking toward the State receiving a free Capitol site and a free Capitol building and a proposal on behalf of the State of an acceptance of the same, while the substitute for said Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 8, offered by Senator Roddie, is a recital of the purported record of certain transactions between I. M. Putnam, L. L. Land, Homer Eiler and the State House Development Company, a corporation, on behalf of the land owners, and the said State Capitol Commission, purported to be in behalf of said State of Oklahoma.

We report that said substitute is not and does not contain any proposal of any kind or character to this Legislature, said purported proposal, or the record of certain transactions being dated August 23rd, 1910, and signed only by said I. M. Putnam, L. L. Land and Homer Eiler on that date.

We further report that said proposal, when made to said purported State Capitol Commission on August 23rd, 1910, was made and submitted on condition that said purported State Capitol Commission would make and enter into a contract with the Oklahoma Street Railway Company, providing among other things for the construction of a line, or lines, of rapid transit service between said Oklahoma City and said proposed State Capitol site and so far as said record discloses, the said contract has not been made.

We further report that the purported bond attached to said purported State Capitol Commission on August 23rd, 1910, was a proposition made by said I. M. Putnam and his associates, to the said purported State Capitol Commission and of date, August 23rd, 1910.

We further report that said substitute contains no proposal of any kind to either this Legislature, or to said State of Oklahoma, and that there being no proposition submitted to either this Legislature or to said State of Oklahoma, then the purported bond, contained in said substitute, is of no force or effect.

We further report that^a in our opinion, if there was a valid proposition pending, then said bond would be of no force and effect, for the reason that said bond contains signatures of partnerships and corporations, without proper authority being shown for such signatures.

By way of explanation and suggestion, your committee reports further, the proposition known as the Putnam site has received careful and extensive consideration at the hands of your committee and we submit the following, relative to said site, as if there were pending a valid binding guaranteed proposition from those interested in that site.

We report that during our deliberations, that said I. M. Putnam appeared before our committee, advocating the Putnam site as a site for the permanent location of our State Capitol and at that time, Mr. Putnam, in addition to explaining his proposition, stated that he and his interests considered that they had already underwritten their proposition and did not consider it advisable or necessary to submit a further guarantee than the land itself.

We further report that our investigation disclosed that said Putnam site is from seven to nine miles, by the usual method of travel, from the center of Oklahoma City and that the best and quickest time hoped for from rapid transit service, is twenty minute schedule each way.

We further report that there are some twenty sections of land between said Oklahoma City and said site and adjacent to said site, said twenty sections contain some 12,800 acres, which if divided as is customary at this place, will make some 100,000 lots, which in the opinion of your committee will be placed in competition with the Capital Addition, proposed by said Putnam interests.

We further report that the said proposed site is north of the present packing plant and the packing plant that is being built and is in the path of the prevailing winds of this section.

We further suggest that the purported proposition and free site advocated by the Putnam interests, proposes to place the State in the real estate business, forcing the State to handle the said Capital Addition to the end that the money to be raised, will be raised by the State from the sale of the property placed at the disposal of the State.

We further suggest that it is almost unanimous opinion that these lots cannot be sold at Oklahoma City and but few of them can be sold in this State, but same, if sold, must be disposed of in other states, and that when sold, will come into the possession of speculators, who will hold same for profit and unimproved, and that instead of the State Capitol Addition being a developed, desirable addition the same will be an unimproved area adjacent to the State Capital of the State.

We further suggest that it is the opinion that these said lots are not and will not prove to be a good investment, and your committee is opposed to placing the State in the attitude of offering for sale lots that our own citizens are unwilling to purchase.

We further suggest that said Putnam site is not backed by Oklahoma City and only urged by persons interested in that particular section of the city.

We further suggest that we do not now, nor never have had, a definite offer from said interest, that no guarantee has been tendered, and further, that if said site had been definitely proposed and guaranteed, in our opinion, it would not be a desirable site for a location for the permanent seat of government of this State.

Therefore, your committee, for the reasons herein above enumerated, recommend that said substitute be not adopted.

"Oklahoma City, Okla., December 14, 1910.

To the Honorable Capital Committee of the State Senate:

Gentlemen—The proposition of the State House Development Company to furnish One Million, Seven Hundred Thousand Dollars for Capitol building, equipment, improvement, etc., fund free to the State, and the pledging of sixteen hundred acres of land and One Hundred Thousand Dollars cash liability to insure the same, may be amended so as to provide:

First. That our said company will manage and conduct the sale of lots, thereby relieving the State, if desired, all that trouble, and that the net proceeds of sales shall be turned into the State until the full amount is in the hands of the State.

Second. It is understood that whatever rent of offices for the next two years for the use of the State in Oklahoma City is not furnished free by Oklahoma City is to be paid for out of the One Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars to be given the State by our company under the head of furniture, fixtures, etc., the purpose being to give the State free quarters while occupying temporary offices in Oklahoma City and its permanent building, grounds, furniture and fixtures, and the cost of moving into the same absolutely free to the taxpayers of Oklahoma.

Respectfully submitted,

STATE HOUSE DEVELOPMENT COMPANY,

By JOHN W. SHARTEL, President.

Present and excused from voting: McMechan; total, 1.

The president declared the resolution adopted.

Senator Franklin explained his vote as follows:

"I desire to vote 'aye' on Resolution No. 8, but when the bill follows embodying substantially the proposition contained in said resolution, I shall oppose the creation of a State Capitol Commission for the reason that the duties of such commission, if created, could be performed by and would be in the scope of the duties of the State Board of Public Affairs, useless, and should not be created. I vote for the resolution presuming that it will be followed by a bill embodying substantially the proposition contained therein for the reason that it is the only tangible proposition presented to us in proper form, which would secure for the people of this State a free Capitol site and buildings. I hoped for a better proposition but such has not been forthcoming. A 'gold brick' having the outward pretention of being a good, well guaranteed proposition is not sufficient."

Senator Berkey explained his vote as follows: "That I believe the resolution was subject to amendment. The president having decided that it was not, prevented me from offering an amendment. I vote no."

"SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO 10

By ALLEN and BROWNLEE.

Whereas, The Federal government on the advent of Statehood contributed to the State of Oklahoma, public building lands amounting to 314,70 acres; and,

Whereas, On the advent of statehood, there was in the State treasury to the credit of the public land fund, and arising from rentals and otherwise, the sum of $666,000.00, and,

Whereas, The said public building lands aforesaid are worth at a minimum estimate of $30.00 per acre, making a total value of the public building lands and funds of $10,109,240.00, and,

Whereas, There has been heretofore appropriated out of said funds, the sum of $2,020,000, leaving a total of more than $8,000,000.00 unappropriated, and,

Whereas, The proposition to build a free Capitol for the State of Oklahoma originated in the minds of certain real estate speculators, and is a Utopian dream, pure and simple, and it is an unjust imposition upon the citizens of Oklahoma City to demand or expect that they contribute of their lands or money, a sufficient sum to build a free Capitol for the State of Oklahoma, and any proposition looking to that end means that the State shall unite with real estate speculators in order to further that end, and,

Whereas, The Legislature of the State of Oklahoma has been in extraordinary session for more than eighteen days at a cost of approximately $2,000.00 per day, and is an unjust burden upon the taxpayers of the State, and,

Whereas, The State public building lands aforesaid are amply sufficient to build a State Capitol, and commensurate with the wealth and dignity of the State of Oklahoma, and said Capitol can be built out of said public building funds without one cent of cost to the taxpayers of this State; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that a committee of fourteen members of the majority, and five members to be selected from the minority, be, and the same is hereby, appointed for the purpose of locating and designating a site for the State Capitol of the State of Oklahoma, within eight blocks of the intersection of Main and Broadway, to consist of not less than two blocks of ground, and that the attorney general of the State of Oklahoma be, and he is hereby, instructed to immediately commence proceedings in accordance with the laws now in force, to condemn such lands so designated by said committee.

That the sum of One Million Dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of the State treasury for the payment of said lands so selected and condemned.

I do not think we should create useless offices. I have offered amendments to strike out the Capitol Commission. It is of superior concern to the people of the State that we should have a free Capital site and buildings, and for that reason I vote for the bill as it is. In my opinion it is the best, and in fact embraces the only substantial proposition offered to the Legislature to carry out the wishes of the people although I oppose certain conditions of the bill as stated above."

"Mr. President:

I vote 'yes' on this bill for the reason that I am convinced by the actions of the majority of this body that we must accept this proposition and pass this bill or get no legislation on this subject.

It is with a great deal of regret that I am forced to accept for my constituency one million dollars for a Capital with a guarantee of only one hundred thousand dollars to make it good, when we had the opportunity to accept one million six hundred thousand dollars with a guarantee of six hundred thousand dollars to make it good. I feel that it is better to sacrifice the seven hundred thousand dollars than to have the people get nothing.

I also feel assured that before any contract is signed, that the rights and interests of the State will be better protected than they are under this bill.

Therefore I accept a half loaf since I am forced to by the majority of this body rather than have nothing.

REUBEN M. RODDIE.
