In my Executive Budget I presented a plan to adequately fund the basic needs of state government. As the membership of both the House and Senate are well aware, my plan proposes a trimming of our budgets in most areas by a modest 2.5% and the reallocation of excess funds to other higher priority areas. Such a plan is responsible and gives our executive branch managers the maximum flexibility needed to manage the affairs of their agencies. I cannot in good conscience sign a bill which instead appropriates funds to the various agencies, virtually across the board, at the 1993 level. Such a move would embrace the status quo — a move we cannot afford to do based upon the knowledge that we must fund reforms in our juvenile justice system and our adult corrections system.

If the status quo is allowed to stand, we will create a self-induced budget crisis which will forestall a significant anti-crime package and create artificial pressure for tax increases. We have sufficient resources in hand, through rainy day funds, new growth revenue and budget cuts, to fund the needs of state government and meet the critical need to reform juvenile justice and expand our adult prisons.

I ask each of you, before you cast your vote on a veto override, to consider this thought: A vote for this bill means that every penny spent in SB 896 is more important than juvenile justice reform. Before we go a step further, before additional appropriation bills are considered, it is time to sit down and work out a responsible solution.

For the above reasons, I veto SB 896.

By the Governor of the State of Oklahoma
/s/ David Walters

COMMUNICATION

At 5:04 p.m. on May 20, 1994, the Assistant Secretary of the Senate and the Assistant Director of Senate Records and Information attempted to deliver Senate Bills 870, 898, 900, 906, 909, 911, 913, 915 and 917 to the Governor as required by the Oklahoma Constitution. The door was locked, however, a young lady opened the door and the Assistant Secretary entered the reception area and presented the bills to a member of the Governor's staff. The bills were refused and the staff member informed the Assistant Secretary the desk was closed and the Governor was no longer accepting bills. The Assistant Secretary then asked the staff member again if the Governor would accept the bills and again the staff member said the Governor would not. At 5:15 p.m. the Secretary of the Senate and the Assistant Secretary again attempted to deliver the Senate Bills to the Governor. The office was found locked, so the Secretary shook the door and two people standing inside the office at the far end of the hall looked towards the door, but ignored the attempts to enter. The Enrolled Bills were then brought back to the Senate Records and Information Office. At 8:40 p.m., the Assistant Secretary once again took the Enrolled Bills to the Office of the Governor. The lights were still on but no one responded to repeated knocks, so he perfected delivery by placing the bills under the front door of the Office of the Governor. At 11:05 p.m., the Assistant Secretary of the Senate attempted to deliver copies of the Enrolled Bills to the Governor at the Governor's residence. After waiting 25 minutes at the entrance to the grounds of the Governor's residence, delivery was attempted to the Governor through the Capitol Patrol Officer on duty at the residence. The Officer refused to accept the delivery and the copies were returned to the Senate Records and Information Office.

The veto message reads as follows:

May 23, 1994

To the Honorable President Pro Tempore and Members of the Honorable Senate Second Session,
Forty-fourth Oklahoma Legislature

This is to advise you that on this date I vetoed Enrolled SB 870 by Brown et al of the Senate and Maddox (Jim) of the House.

If a $20,000 pay raise for state elected officials was in a separate bill it would not have a chance of passing the legislature and is not supported by the people of Oklahoma. To use the badly needed Highway Patrol pay raise as a cover for a $20,000 salary increase for elected officials is poor public policy. I challenge the Oklahoma Legislature to let each of the issues presented in SB 870 rise or fall on their own merit. Send a bill to my desk which tells our troopers they are important and gives them a well deserved increase in their monthly take-home pay. I'll sign it upon receipt.

For the above reason I veto SB 870, and have returned it to its house of origin.

By the Governor of the State of Oklahoma
/s/ David Walters

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

Advising his approval May 24, 1994, of Enrolled SB 1196 and on May 25, veto of SB 676.

The veto message reads as follows:

May 25, 1994

To The Honorable President Pro Tempore and Members of the Honorable State Senate, Second Session, Forty-fourth Oklahoma Legislature

This is to advise you that on this date I vetoed Enrolled SB 676 by Cain of the Senate and Larason of the House.

Although expunging arrest records when no criminal charges are filed is a good idea, remaining sections of this bill go too far. A person who receives a full pardon is granted restoration of certain civil rights, but does not have his criminal record erased. Permitting expungement of the pardoned offenses would seal records that could later be used if another crime is committed.

Also, permitting expungement of criminal records ten years after adjudication would restrict the ability of prosecutors to file subsequent charges alleging those former felony convictions.

For the above reasons I veto SB 676 and have returned it to its house of origin.

By the Governor of the State of Oklahoma
/s/ David Walters

Pursuant to the Roberts motion, the Senate adjourned at 5:40 p.m. to meet Thursday, May 26, 1994, immediately following adjournment of Special Session convening at 10:00 a.m.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

Advising his veto May 26, 1994 of Enrolled SB 1121.

The veto message reads as follows:

May 26, 1994

To The Honorable President Pro Tempore and Members of the Honorable State Senate Second Session,
Forty-fourth Oklahoma Legislature

This is to advise you that on this date I vetoed Enrolled SB 1121 by Williams (Don) of the Senate and Cotner and Rice of the House.

Historically, Oklahoma has been starved for capital to fuel its economy. Much of our success in economic development over the past three years has depended upon our businesslike ability to balance our budget, hold taxes in line and engender confidence in our state through prudent management. Today that is one of our state's greatest assets in attracting capital and investment, which creates jobs and boosts our state's fortunes.

Simply stated, a 75-percent income tax increase on non-residents who have demonstrated their faith in Oklahoma by investing here flies in the face of all that we have accomplished. It is my genuine fear that passage of this single bill, which will affect almost 90,000 taxpayers, will seriously erode our successful efforts to position Oklahoma nationally as a pro-business state worthy of sizable outside investment. Through your efforts and mine, Oklahoma has become the premier state in the nation in business incentives and job attraction. We should not risk becoming second-rate by allowing SB 1121 to become law.

For the above reasons, I veto SB 1121 and return it to its house of origin.

By the Governor of the State of Oklahoma
/s/ David Walters

The veto message reads as follows:

To the Honorable Speaker of the House and Members of the Honorable House of Representatives
Second Session, Forty-Fourth Legislature

This is to advise you that on this date I vetoed Enrolled HB 2765 by Hamilton (James) and Steidley of the House and Taylor and Haney of the Senate.

If signed into law, HB 2765 would allow employees of the Oklahoma Historical Society to receive reimbursement for travel at a rate which is beyond that permitted for the vast majority of other state government workers. The broad range of situations which would allow these employees to qualify for the reimbursement does not justify an exemption from the standards and limitations provided for in the State Travel Reimbursement Act.

For the above reasons, I veto HB 2765 and return it to its house of origin.

By the Governor of the State of Oklahoma
/s/ David Walters

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

Transmitting herewith Enrolled HB 2668, together with the Governor's veto message thereon, and advising that under the provisions of Section 11, Article VI, of the Constitution of the State of Oklahoma, the House has reconsidered and passed said bill over the Governor's veto by a two-thirds vote of all members elected to and constituting the House, said vote being as follows: Aye: 82; Nay: 15.

The veto message reads as follows:

To the Honorable Speaker of the House and Members of the Honorable House of Representatives
Second Session, Forty-Fourth Legislature

This is to advise you that on this date I vetoed Enrolled HB 2668 by Hamilton (James) and Steidley of the House and Taylor and Haney of the Senate.

In 1992, I advocated and campaigned across the state for the passage of a provider tax for the Department of Human Services. I believed at that time that this type of funding mechanism would allow us to receive additional federal funds which have become critical to the delivery of services to those who qualify for medicaid funds. Regrettably, the people of the State of Oklahoma did not agree. By a wide margin, the people informed all of us that they did not want this type of funding mechanism. In light of their vote, and the fact that the provider tax which would be implemented in this legislation is exactly the type of funding mechanism proposed in 1992, I cannot break the will of the people and sign this legislation.

For the above reasons, I veto HB 2668 and return it to its house of origin.

By the Governor of the State of Oklahoma
/s/ David Walters

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

Advising his approval May 26, 1994, of Enrolled SBs 61, 770, 898, 900, 902, 904, 906, 908, 909, 910, 912, 913, 914, 915, 916, 917, 918, 920, 1091 and 1127 and veto on May 26, of SBs 911 and 919.

The veto messages read as follows:

May 26, 1994

To The Honorable President Pro Tempore and Members of the Honorable State Senate Second Session,
Forty-fourth Oklahoma Legislature

This is to advise you that on this date I vetoed Enrolled SB 911 by Taylor and Haney of the Senate and Hamilton (James) and Steidley of the House.

In 1993, the State of Oklahoma took a great step forward when we carved the University Hospitals away from the Department of Human Services and created the University Hospital Authority to run the hospitals in a more efficient, competitive manner. Regrettably, while I feel many provisions found in SB 911 correct unintended consequences from last year's legislation and allows the hospital needed flexibility, I am deeply troubled that this legislation goes too far. I cannot support the provision which exempts the Authority from the standards and limitations provided in the State Travel Reimbursement Act, nor can I support an effort to remove the power of the Governor or order a furlough or freeze on employment.

For the above reasons, I veto SB 911 and return it to its house of origin.

By the Governor of the State of Oklahoma
/s/ David Walters

May 26, 1994

To The Honorable President Pro Tempore and Members of the Honorable State Senate Second Session, Forty-fourth Oklahoma Legislature

This is to advise you that on this date I vetoed Enrolled SB 919 by Taylor and Haney of the Senate and Hamilton (James) and Steidley of the House.

This bill creates a revolving fund within the medical examiner's office to receive fees, grants, gifts, or funds received from corporations or foundations. However, an error has been made in this legislation.

Section 1-329.1 of Title 63 refers to fees for permits for cremation, burial at sea or other recognized means of dissolution; but, this legislation lists "death certificate fees" in reference to the statutory citation. Death certificate fees are not within the purview of the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, but are the responsibility of the Department of Health.

By the Governor of the State of Oklahoma /s/ David Walters

Legislative Referendum No. _____
State Question No. _____

THE GIST OF THE PROPOSITION IS AS FOLLOWS:

This measure amends the Oklahoma Constitution. It amends Section 15 of Article 10 and Section 6 of Article 11. The Legislature may pass laws to provide for the use of the permanent common school fund and other educational funds to guarantee certain bonds. The bonds are issued by public school districts and colleges or universities. The permanent school fund or other educational funds would be repaid any money, plus interest, paid because of the guarantees. Laws would be passed to provide a way for public school districts to pay back the state any money, plus interest, the state had to pay on behalf of the school districts. Laws would also be passed for procedures to guarantee bonds issued by a college or a university. The measure requires the Legislature to pass laws on how the money in the permanent school fund and other educational funds may be invested. It states the purposes for which investments may be made and the degree of care required for investments. It removes language which, at present, allows certain types of investments. It also removes language which, at present, requires certain investments to be given preference.

MESSAGE OF GOVERNOR DAVID WALTERS

President Pro Tem Cullison, Speaker Johnson, Lieutenant Governor Mildren, members of the Oklahoma Legislature and citizens of Oklahoma:

Your work and my work over the past four years is paying off. Our combined efforts have spurred record job-creation activities across the state — in the big cities, in the small towns and in the rural areas. More than 75,000 additional jobs since January of 1991 — over 20,000 in the last 12 months — and the momentum is continuing to build. We've broken records . . . the fastest job growth and retail sales growth in a decade and an all-time record in the number of jobs in Oklahoma . . . and we're getting ready to break some more.

Oklahoma is on the move.

It's the political season, and that's the time when most of what you hear is how many things should be changed and how this candidate or that one is going to make things much better.

I hope they do. Together we have built a great foundation for them.

Jobs — creating jobs and retaining jobs — have been a primary focus of this administration. And not just any jobs, but high quality jobs. I am pleased at how willingly you have committed your imagination and the state's resources to creating and retaining thousands of jobs for Oklahomans.

My heartfelt thanks to you for that.

The manufacturers' alliance, the capital access program, the venture capital funds, the restructuring of our international trade efforts, our focus on food processing, Quality Jobs, Saving Quality Jobs, the first bond issue in 25 years, telecommunications and no tax increases — all of these combined have sparked a powerful engine that is moving, that is producing, that is now generating a substantial number of jobs for Oklahomans who are eager to work.

Our efforts were propelled even further when you approved two substantial workers' compensation reform packages over the past three years. After years of watching premium rates rise, Oklahoma employers last year faced no increase. Your efforts and my efforts in this area stopped the trend of rising rates dead in its tracks.

I thank you, and I know employers across the state thank you for the relief you have provided them.

I have called you here today and I come before you today to ask you to continue this important work and to allow me to finish a job that I have not yet completed.

Everywhere I go, whenever I'm recruiting a potential new employer for Oklahoma or visiting an Oklahoma company about its expansion plans, the single largest issue that arises is the cost of workers' compensation insurance in Oklahoma.

They typically know we are blessed with a large and willing work force. They know about our great vo-tech training and our state economic development programs. Many know about our dramatic improvements in education. They know of our pro-business attitudes and recognize that we're now one of the most aggressive states in the nation in attracting new business.

But the issue generally falls straight to the bottom line: How much does workers' compensation insurance cost, and what is Oklahoma doing to contain those costs so a business can afford to operate profitably?

The reforms of the past two years have helped. But our workers' compensation insurance system is seriously flawed. It is already too expensive and yet, if no action is taken, our Oklahoma businesses face the prospect of a 100-million-dollar increase this year. And the system does not serve injured workers well.

The issue goes right to the living rooms of working men and women and their families where too many are injured unnecessarily, and their disability support is too slow and too little. Families are torn by the anxiety of suffering and the fear of financial disaster. We all have seen such injuries, sometimes painfully close to home.

Yesterday I visited my brother, Tom, who is lying in a VA hospital recovering from periodic complications from a construction accident four years ago which left him paralyzed and wheelchair-bound. Thank God he is alive, but he is a daily reminder to me and to his family of the importance of safety in the workplace and the need to better support injured workers.

So we all work hard for our own reasons for a solution that has frequently evaded us. But today I sense that an historic momentum is at play, a momentum that works to our great advantage if we will just seize the moment.

I know that my asking you to come here for this special legislative session is a burden. Many of you are anxious about campaigns or jobs or family obligations. But I also know that you are men and women who take your responsibilities seriously, and those special responsibilities sometimes require extraordinary actions. I respectfully request such an action today.

You'll recall that we came to you again with a workers' compensation reform package earlier this year, during the regular session. It didn't pass — workers' comp reform is always a tough issue. Special interest groups typically have an interest in the comfortable status quo that they helped to create. But progress is even more difficult when the actual participants in the system — business and labor — can't agree on what shape reform should take.

For the first time in Oklahoma history, we have broken the back of that antagonism.

For the first time ever in the 47-year history of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, business and labor leaders have sat down — in a process very similar to collective bargaining — and have worked together to forge an instrument of reform that serves the people for whom the system was designed — employers and employees.

They did it right here, in Oklahoma, in the Governor's Mansion.

I sat in on a few of their sessions. After three months, 34 meetings and over 300 hours of negotiations — that, in fact, included sessions with doctors, lawyers and representatives of the insurance industry — this group came together and said, "Here is a bill we will support."

What became known as the Oklahoma Council of Labor and Business on Workers' Compensation Reform is a group of men and women, business and labor leaders, who took time away from their families and jobs to see what they could accomplish together.

Their names are unknown to most of you, but their only desire was to change public policy to take better care of injured workers in a way that helps create more jobs in Oklahoma. Some of them are here today, and I ask that they stand and be acknowledged for a great and successful effort.

It was among my proudest moments as Governor last Wednesday to stand in the Blue Room and hear a representative of the State Chamber of Commerce and the president of the State AFL-CIO, along with other business and labor representatives, announce their agreement.

It was a powerful moment, and not just because of the agreement. It was impressive to me in what it represented — that business and labor had finally learned that their positions need not be diametrically opposed, and that they don't have to run over each other to protect their own interests.

In the House bill to be presented to you today by Representative Don McCorkell, Senator Ben Robinson and dozens of co-authors, business negotiated a good deal for business and labor, and labor negotiated a good deal for labor and business. An "us-against-them" mentality melted into a clasp of hands. That's the forceful spirit that should carry us through our work over the next few days. If business wins and labor wins, Oklahoma works — and all of us win.

I recognize that our work is not over simply because we have a firm agreement on a strong reform bill. You know, and I know, that powerful forces with deeply entrenched special interests in the status quo, are already lobbying heavily to scuttle the chances for any success, any reform, during this special session.

Doctors, lawyers, chiropractors and others, who gain much through professional fees under the current system, understandably feel threatened by change — yet change is exactly what we need if we are to restore credibility and confidence in our workers' compensation system.

To them, I can say only this: The system exists to serve Oklahoma's injured workers and the businesses that employ them. Although you gain much from the costliness and inefficiencies of the current system, you are on the periphery. And you must remain there for the system to work.

The day we position doctors and lawyers at the center of the system is the day the system will collapse into a bureaucratic heap that serves neither injured workers or Oklahoma businesses. We had to keep the needs of employees and employers paramount during these deliberations, and that is what we have done.

If the major players in the system — business and labor — could put aside their separate agendas and come together in a very public spirited way to support meaningful reform, then we should expect no less from participants who play less central roles.

Each of you here today has had a copy of the reform team's final draft since before the weekend, and it is a very good bill.

It increases benefits, improves safety and — despite the rhetoric you may be hearing — it protects employees' right to select their family physician.

It does, however, do away with the "dueling doctors," where one doctor, hired by one side, can say a worker has no disability and another, hired by the other side, says he's totally disabled.

We estimate that out of 20,000 contested workers' comp cases in a year, we may have as many as 60,000 medical opinions being rendered, at a cost of over 30 million dollars. We have to do better than that, and this bill will allow us to do so.

The maximum payment to workers temporarily disabled will increase by 33 percent, and these payments will be delivered faster — after three days rather than seven. When workers are injured, we owe it to them and their families to act quickly and provide more than a pittance for their support.

However, we must understand that the real key to making our system work efficiently is preventing some of the 100,000 Oklahoma workplace injuries in the first place. The pain and suffering that workers endure, and the costly downtime and absenteeism that employers experience, can be reduced significantly if we will simply make our workplaces safer.

I recently visited the Burlington Northern Railroad in Tulsa, which operates there one of the largest transfer stations in the nation. They realized the extraordinary cost of injuries to their company and to their employees. They set up new worker safety programs and saw their injuries in Oklahoma drop by almost two-thirds since 1992.

The Safety Health Accident Reduction Program, known as the SHARP Program, operated by the Oklahoma Department of Labor, reduced accidents at the participating companies by 75 percent.

What does that mean? It means far fewer workers and families in need of assistance. It means better service for customers. It means less costly downtime and less litigation. It means better jobs for Oklahomans and more profits for Oklahoma companies.

It has been worth the cost and effort for Burlington Northern and the SHARP Program companies, and it only stands to reason that other companies in Oklahoma can benefit, as well.

This bill mandates workplace safety committees for all companies with more than 25 employees, and it offsets that requirement with additional safety programs offered through our vo-tech system and the Department of Labor.

The bill also provides for a sales tax rebate for purchase of safety equipment. Many have suggested that the successful workplace safety programs that Oregon implemented be duplicated here, and this bill does just that.

This bill toughens our laws on workers' compensation fraud, and it streamlines the process once a case is filed in Workers' Compensation Court. The bill dramatically expands the capacity of the Workers' Compensation Court to provide counseling and assistance to those who don't choose to hire a lawyer.

And the bottom line? This bill saves money. If this bill is passed, I will ask the State Board for Property and Casualty Rates to reduce, not increase, workers' comp rates this year. And what will that mean?

Representative Jack Bonny has a company in his district, CR Industries, which employs 300 people in the southwestern Oklahoma town of Hobart, population 4,300.

They make oil seals for Ford, GM, Chrysler and other major manufacturers in almost identical plants in Oklahoma and six other states. In the most recent report year, they paid out $582,000 in workers' comp insurance claims at the plant in Kiowa County.

A similar plant owned by the same company in another state employs 260 workers — 40 fewer than in Oklahoma — and paid $30,000 in claims. The workers' comp cost at all of the plants in the other six states is less than the cost at one plant in Oklahoma.

The company has talked about moving the plant out of Oklahoma.

The Hobart plant manager, Mr. Larry Shoemaker, is here with us today.

If you pass this bill, the first call I will make after signing it will be to CR Industries in Hobart and to its corporate headquarters in Elgin, Illinois, to ask them to stay.

Everyone — employers and workers — stands to gain from the major provisions of this bill. It is a responsible, credible effort, and I salute the reform team that created it and the authors who will carry it. Collectively they have and will perform an important, valuable service to the people of the State of Oklahoma.

Now it rests here, in the Legislature, before the elected representatives of the people of Oklahoma.

I encourage you to study, ponder, discuss and debate its provisions in these chambers of Oklahoma democracy. You face a unique opportunity to act decisively to create jobs in Oklahoma in a way that improves the bottom line of every company — and the security of every working family in our state.

A solid agreement has been reached. A good bill has been produced, and the time is ripe for public policy to be changed.

I ask you to use your power to take another step toward making Oklahoma the best state in the nation.
