OATH OF OFFICE

President Fallin announced that the Official Oath of Office as required by the Constitution was administered by Justice Hardy Summers to Senator Bernest Cain on November 7; and to the other twenty-three newly elected members on November 19, 2002, by Chief Justice Rudolph Hargrave of the Oklahoma Supreme Court.

The President ordered the roll called on the newly elected members of the Senate.

Present: Aldridge, Branan, Brogdon, Cain, Capps, Coates, Coffee, Corn, Crutchfield, Easley, Fisher, Gumm, Harrison, Hobson, Johnson, Kerr, Lawler, Leftwich, Maddox, Monson, Myers, Pruitt, Shurden and Taylor.—24.

President Fallin declared a quorum present.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE HOBSON

Senator Taylor moved that Senator Cal Hobson be elected President Pro Tempore of the Senate for the Forty-ninth Legislature, which motion was seconded by Senator Stipe. Senator Shurden moved that all nominations cease, which motions were declared adopted.

Senator Robinson moved that the President appoint a committee to escort President Pro Tempore Hobson to the President's desk.

The motion was declared adopted and the President appointed Senators Horner, Lawler, Monson, Riley, Wilcoxson and Williams as the special committee.

President Fallin, on behalf of the Senate, congratulated Senator Hobson and handed the gavel to the President Pro Tempore.

President Pro Tempore Hobson delivered the following address:

Thank you all, thank you. Thank you all, very much. Senator Rozell, this is your place, I know that. And I'll be brief. I'll do my best.

First, I've been handed a note that the new First Lady is in the gallery, Kim Henry. Kim, where are you? We're so proud of you and our new governor. And I hope that all of us together, in a bipartisan way, will give Oklahoma a great chance to continue the improvements that we've been experiencing for many, many years. We will do everything to be helpful to you and your husband, your three children. And let no one doubt that the new governor was elected because of those great commercials of those three girls and you. I think Brad is kind of a dud. That's probably not the way to start this, I realize that.

Thank you, Governor Fallin, for your kind words. I appreciate -- All right, now, knock it off. I mean, I've got some power I think I can use. I'm not sure yet. But Stratton told me

I'm really a powerful guy now, so. Few things I'd like to say. Never dreamed I'd have the chance to do this. Like to thank members of both parties for your willingness to give me a chance. I heard a couple of voices that said no on my nomination. We recorded it. Carol, you have the tape? We really need to make sure we identify the voices, because there's never been a seventh floor in the Capitol, or, actually, a second basement, but those two guys -- they were guys -- they are toast. And they should be. I want to thank Senator Taylor, Senator Stipe for their very kind remarks, and, quite frankly, Senator Shurden for closing the nominations. I tried to get a republican, and they all said no, not going to do that this year. That's fine. But the trade with Senator Shurden is that that cockfighting thing that you're worried about -- thanks for the nomination, and the closure of the nominations -- that might also be closed out. We'll talk about it, okay. Do you want your microphone turned on to respond?

It's really important that I thank the people that got me here. This is always very emotional. I remember, Senator Taylor, eight years ago when you became the President. And as you were introducing the people from your area, and your family, and your lovely wife, and your mother, remember that, I think I remembered that your voice kind of caught. And so this will be the hardest part of what I have to say, and also the most prideful comment.

I want to introduce, once again -- And thank you, Governor, for introducing my wife. The only reason I'm in the Senate is Elaine. Elaine, would you stand again. Thank you very much. And I promise you, members, she won't be back for four years. She's not one of those meddling types, except when trying to beat you republicans. She's very active in that, but she won't be hanging around the Capitol, I promise.

My mother, a part of the World War II generation, Wardena Webb. Mother, thank you for everything you've done for me. Thank you. We're one of those families, like many families, Elaine has children, I have children. So let's have the three children, Jack, Aubrey and Matt, please stand, the three kids. Would you do that? Thank you very much.

My sisters promised to be here. Leslie and Gayle, did you all keep your commitment? One out of two, that's not bad. All of us with gray hair or no hair, which fits most of us, have parents from the greatest generation. My mother was. My father was a B51 pilot in World War II.

But there are two heroes from World War II, that great generation, here, Elaine's parents, Al and Mercedes Wheeler. Before you applaud, ole Al crashed a Navy plane during World War II. Unfortunately, he crashed it in America. I would have thought if you're going to drive one into the ground, do it in Germany or Japan. But he crashed it, I think, in Florida. Would you all stand. He was partying there in Florida, in Miami Beach, I'm told, and had too much fun.

But there are a few other relatives and friends that are here. If I've not introduced -- oh, the most important, I'm sorry, the most important person. Senator Rozell, once again, you've talked to me about grandchildren. I didn't understand until one came along. The next governor, in 21 years, of the State of Oklahoma is with us today, Tate Hammontree. Tate, would you? Thank you. Thank you.

All right. Enough of all that family stuff. Thank you, all, for coming. I'm deeply honored and appreciative of the work you've done to get me to this point.

Now, Senator Taylor, when I got here in 1978, with you and Senator Shurden, I kind of thought there were only two things of value in this building.

And the senior people, like Senator Smith, Senator Ford, Senator Stipe, Senator Capps, and others have told me two things of value: Knowledge. What do you know? What do you know? And, second, your word. Those are the only things of value in this building. How hard you work, how much you know, and keeping your word.

Well, I thought those were the only two things until I moved into Senator Taylor's office. It will always be his office. He set the record for eight years. No one will ever serve as Pro Tem for eight years again.

The third thing I found of value, after I moved in there, Minority Leader, Senator Williamson, a private bathroom. I appreciate you building that thing before my arrival, and all the heat you took from the press for doing that. Really is a nice deal. Nice deal. So there are three things of value: What you know, your word, and the Pro Tem's private bathroom.

Now, all of us together have our hands full. We are in the deepest challenge and economic difficulty, Senator Fair, I think, even since you arrived in 1966 or '68? '66. Some say our problem is as difficult as any since World War II. That means that because our numbers are 27/20 -- and who knows how the election will turn out in Shawnee -- whatever happens, the fact is that we need your help. And you need them to help us, and vice versa, if we're going to be successful.

So I have three or four thoughts.

Where is Senator Morgan? You are a complete idiot for accepting the chairmanship of Appropriations, when you must make everybody mad and cut $600 million out of budgets hurting children, senior citizens, highways. You have no political future.

Senator Robinson, as vice chairman you're term limited, you didn't care anyway, right? So as you two fade off into the sunset, I must ask you to worry about -- and I'll close here in a few minutes with two groups -- the most vulnerable people in our society: our senior citizens and our little children.

As you do the cuts that you have to do, I beg of you, think of those two groups. Be concerned about those. Others will find ways to help themselves. But I ask you to think about the little kids and the senior citizens. And if you'll do that, we'll get through this together in a way that, I think, will be better than most states.

Now, I know we are divided in philosophy in many ways. And I want to say this word about Nichols Hills. Who represents Nichols Hills? Senator Fair. Gentleman in the back. Who represents Idabel? The other gentleman in the back. You all may think that you represent very diverse and different people. That may be right. But I ask you to think about this: Maybe you represent people with great hearts, who actually have the same priorities for our state. A great education system, healthcare for everyone, a transportation system that is effective for your community.

Think about that. Maybe we can find ways, in the next two years, to bind together those who have the most revenue and those who have the most need, and see what we can do for our state.

Now, I admit that, Senator Rabon, others may have differences on topics like cockfighting. I don't know the last time there was a cockfighting event in Nichols Hills. I don't know. I'm told it happens pretty regularly over in your part of the woods. But outside of those issues, why don't we find what we can agree upon, rather than what we can fight about? Let's try that.

Let me say this about our problem, our problem the budget shortfall. Please, be guided by the best staff in America. They are incredibly smart, talented, and they are not democrats and republicans.

I asked Tom Walls the other day, "When you interview somebody to work for the Senate what do you ask?" "Well, we ask: What's your educational background? What's your work background? What's your economic background?" "Do you ask how they're registered?" "No, that would be against the law."

So I can't tell you how Amanda Paliotta is registered. I don't know. But I can tell you this: She has a first-class mind, that if we will listen to her we'll get out of this challenge, we'll get out of this difficulty together. That's what we ought to do with this staff.

Also, let me commit to all of you, Senator Myers and others, the Pro Tem staff, Paul, Vic, my brain, Lorna -- Are you here, Lorna? Do you mind standing up? Lorna, my brain. Thank you. Been with me for 18 years. The only reason I'm still here is because of her work and my wife's work. Cindy, Karen, Josh, Tony, others, they're your staff. I want you to feel free to come to Senator Taylor's office and ask them to help you, regardless of party affiliation, to make sure that you make the right decisions as you serve the citizens of this state.

I am on page three, and there are 11 pages. I apologize.

Three or four issues I want to talk about real quick. We can agree, we can agree on issues. I know we can, Senator Branan. Education. All of us said we must do better on education. We can do that. We have islands of excellence. Those of you that are lucky enough -- Senator Snyder, where are you -- to get to represent Edmond. I get to represent Norman.

Those of you that represent Broken Arrow, those of you that get to represent areas -- Putnam City -- we have to understand that it's not good enough to have islands of excellence in education. It has to be for all of our students, in all of our 540 schools.

How do we do that? Let me go ahead and get in trouble. Vic Thompson did some kind of editorials on my remarks. This is one area he said, "Don't go there." Well, I'm going to go there. I think we need to quit, Senator Cain, wanting to lead the nation in the incarceration rate of males and females; first among females, third among males. We've done that for 11 years. Why do we want to do that? Why don't we get treatment? Why don't we have alternative consequences, Senator Wilcoxson, for those drug offenders? But let's quit locking up so many people in the state of Oklahoma, and divert that money, which we can do, to education. Let's do that. Let's do that together. We can do that. We can do that. It's okay, guys, we'll talk.

Let's think about drug courts. Senator Wilkerson, the warrior from Vietnam, has created 29 drug courts. They're important. And he had help from you, Senator Laughlin. That was important. We can make a difference in the lives of people, without spending $18,000 a year locking up folks, when we spend, Senator Williams, $5,300 on each child. I think that's so goofy that we have those kind of priorities.

So let's talk about it. Let's see if we can find middle ground. I think we can. Other states have. They're kind of ashamed of us that we think that it's important to lock up more women than any other state.

Second, the health of too many of our citizens is, in a word, unhealthy. Now, this was another area that the Senate censors wanted me to leave out. Heck with those guys, I'm term limited, I can say what I want to say, right? Too many people in Oklahoma smoke, especially kids. And the good news, that little smoking room in the back here, Senator Robinson, that's always been there all the years that I've been here and the years you've been here, the smoking lamp is out. You can't smoke back there anymore. And I know I didn't get any applause from Senator Smith over that deal. But, Senator Smith, the trade is, Brother, you are the Judiciary committee chairman. Fair enough? All right. There is a parking spot in the far south lot, where you can go walk and smoke in the future.

Too much illegal drug use, methamphetamines, we know that. We're one of the leaders in the nation of that. We have to deal with it. We have bright minds that can help us do that.

This will get me in trouble, as well.

Sixty percent of America's folks are overweight. Senator Cain has talked about the fact that we need athletic programs for our kids and schools again, so they don't just enjoy cheeseburgers, and all that, but they also have exercise. Let's help him talk about that situation and make our kids healthier.

Finally, our cancer rates, heart disease, diabetes are very high. Right, Senator Robinson?

So what do we do about it? Why don't we build a cancer center in Oklahoma, instead of requiring those who are afflicted with that terrible disease to have to go to M.D. Anderson in Texas? Darn it, we can do those things here in Oklahoma, so our people don't have to go down there.

Cessation programs for smokers and health education for all. How to pay for it? I've got an idea. Vic Thompson said I couldn't tell you what the idea is today. But Senator Coffee and I are going to be partners on it, I'm telling you, because there is a solution to the difficulty of our kids smoking.

Now, very quickly, economic development. Thank you, Senator Fisher, for your work on quality jobs.

Let me see over here, Senator Milacek, thank you, sir, for what you're trying to do on the infrastructure. You know that from 1949 to 1984 -- I'm not out of time yet -- Oklahoma did not raise the gasoline tax for those 35 years. I'm not standing here today advocating the gasoline tax increase. If you'll come see me privately in a few minutes, it will be a different discussion. But for those 35 years we got behind, didn't we? We didn't build roads. You're trying to make us talk about it, and I appreciate it. If you don't think I'm telling you the truth about the gasoline tax in Oklahoma from 1949 to 1984, period of 35 years, when it went from a cost of $50,000 a mile to a million dollars a mile, ask Senator Stipe. He was here. Right, Senator Stipe? Didn't happen, didn't happen.

Finally, I would like for us to have a conversation with our 38 or 39 nationally-recognized tribes about what they're doing and what we're doing. Now, Senator Smith, Senator Wilkerson, Senator Rozell, Senator Fair, Ford, others, have worked hard to understand the sovereignty of the tribes. And I would say we can make sense with them, as we have on motor fuels and tobacco, with their casino gambling. Now, we can. Senator Wilcoxson, it's not whether we have gaming or not. We have gaming. There are 55 or 60 casinos, I'm told. I've never been to one. First lie as Pro Tem. Went to the Thunderbird thing out there east of Norman and bought a ticket on the Kentucky Derby.

They're here. The question for you to decide is this: They're here. Do you want to regulate them? Do you want to tax them? Do you want what they're doing to inure to the benefit of all Oklahomans? Or do you want to just kind of ignore they exist? It's your choice, and I'm going to go with your choice. But I will tell you this: There will be 200 of them in a couple of years. And you can decide, again, whether you think that they deserve regulation and taxation and contribution to all of Oklahoma.

Finally. Talked about education, healthcare, infrastructure. Now I'd like to say a word about you and all of us. We have the largest freshman class since at least 19, I think, '86, when, Senator Milacek, 17 of 24 incumbent senators were either defeated or quit. That's when we were raising taxes. Senator Williams, remember that? Seventeen of 24 got the hook, they quit or they got beat. People like Senator Cate, Senator Terrill, and others. Because what had those folks done? Jay Paul, they had raised taxes four times in the '80s, to keep the lights on in Oklahoma.

We now have the largest freshman class since 1986. Let me tell you, briefly, about them.

Cliff Aldridge. He's in the insurance business. Cliff, where you are?

Cliff Branan, commercial real estate, important guy right back there.

Randy Brogdon. Wholesale distributor and a mayor of a major city. Where are you?

Harry Coates, construction consultant, right over there. That's code for every roof on every Wal-Mart store in America he poured the tar on, pretty much.

Kenneth Corn. Got kind of a difficult background. He was a member of the house. Forgive him for his sin. I had 12 years of that. And, Senator Easley, you did, too, and Senator Taylor, and many others.

Jay Paul Gumm, businessman. Jay Paul.

Daisy Lawler. Twenty-eight years in the classroom. Classroom teacher. You know what we ought to do when we have some discussion about education? Probably ought to listen to her a little bit, since she's been there for 28 years, has a sense of what the kids think, and know, and care about.

David Myers, chemical engineer. David, we tried to beat you twice. Did one time, and you got us a second time. Delighted you're here. Your experience in business is going to be a great help to this body.

Now, I've mentioned these eight names because now I am going to mention some other names. This new blood is important for the Senate. Because as Senator Stipe has told us, we're the only continuing body. Not the House, not the governor, not the courts. You're it. You have been elected to the best job in America. No question about it. Here's the down side: As you eight new folks come into this body, get this, 334 years of legislative experience will leave in 2004. Let me be clear. I do not agree with term limits for legislators. That doesn't matter. The public is for that in 21 states. Let me challenge you eight new members to think in terms of what the departing members have done in their time here. Let me tell you what they've done.

By the way, that 334 years of legislative experience, contrary to what many people think, it is not all Gene Stipe's. It's about 70 percent of it, but. Here's what these remarkable people have accomplished in their time here. And these are the folks that have to go away in 2004.

Sam Helton. Sam's been here 12 years in 2004. There will be a new, remarkable, beautiful, safe veterans center in Lawton this year, in June, because Sam said that has to happen for about 300 of our wonderful veterans, the group from World War II and others that we've talked about. Wouldn't have happened without Sam. He also, with Jim's help, Senator Maddox, added hundreds of new jobs at Goodyear. Now, when they started bugging

Senator Taylor about all that, Senator Taylor had hair. But we got it done, right, guys? And now Goodyear is expanding, and you're going to have a wonderful center there in Lawton.

Bruce Price. Everybody claims to be a farmer. Lots of folks in Oklahoma said they're farmers. Well, there's a real farmer. And that's this guy, Bruce Price, who gave our prayer today. He knows about rural Oklahoma. He's going to chair the Ag committee. He's made a huge difference in the future of rural Oklahoma. And think about this: What parts of our state are hurting the most? Rural Oklahoma. You're going to lead for the next two years. You're going to help those parts of our state succeed, and we're blessed that you've been willing to come here from a successful background and serve for 12 years.

Ben Robinson. Years from now all of you, many of you, will be forgotten, as I will be. But there will be little kids and senior citizens that will have been served by Ben's 16 years worrying about healthcare access, Senator Easley, for those people. Thank you, sir, for your commitment, your compassion to the groups that we usually forget about.

Dick Wilkerson, warrior from Vietnam, also 16 years. I completely screwed up Truth in Sentencing. My fault. Senator Taylor, you put me in charge. I tried to let everybody out. Senator Wilkerson came to the rescue and said really bad guys need to stay in. And there's ten categories of bad guys that are staying in. But you know what he also said, Senator Smith, with your help? He said we need drug courts. And we have 29, Senator Stipe, drug courts now, thanks to this remarkable man who must leave this body in 2004.

Jim Dunlap, his in-laws live in my district. They are members of a labor union. I love firing them up about his votes on Right to Work. You have been a remarkable leader. Senator Taylor has told me of your work together the last two years to make this body successful. Thank you, sir, for all you've done, and the commitment you've made, understanding the challenge that Minority Leaders have with the leader of the majority party.

Maxine Horner, 18 years. Eighteen years. And I want you to think about this: When she passed OLAP -- and for you new members, that's just a term. OLAP now is graduating, Senator Williams, thousands of new college graduates. She thought of that eight to ten years ago. And now those kids are getting college degrees. And everybody, Frank Keating, Charlie Ford, Penny Williams, have said the important thing is more college graduates. Thank you, for your commitment to OLAP, that's created those college graduates.

Mark Snyder, my soulmate on the back row. He also was the Minority Leader. And he worked in an area that's very difficult: building and construction trades. I don't understand it. He wanted to argue about it, fix it. He's made a difference for those folks, in his 18 years here. Also a Vietnam warrior like Senator Wilkerson.

Rick Littlefield. Ricky, where are you? One word comes to mind when I think of Rick Littlefield: bingo. You would think and hope he would have some higher kind of goal in life than to screw around with the American Legion, and all that junk, on bingo. But that's all Rick ever cared about, so here it is, bingo. That's not right. He's in charge of 21 agencies: tourism, commerce, the Corporation Commission, DEQ. And what I always loved, Senator Rozell, about Senator Littlefield, he never asked Senator Haney for money. He said, "You give me the agencies, I'll figure it out, I'll make them work. "Well, Brother, this year not only are we going to ask you to not ask for any money, bring Senator Morgan money from your agencies. You've been a remarkable leader in a tough, tough job.

Penny Williams, 24 years. Love her, hate her, agree with her, whatever, that's fine. She's Miss Education for the state of Oklahoma. Now, I have no clue, Senator Smith, Senator Ford, others from Tulsa, what the hell that mess is in Tulsa about higher education. I don't know what that animal is. You've got OSU, and you've got OU and other cats and dogs. She created it. But her great heritage is this: For the eight new members, get in your car, go down to 10th Street on Lincoln, look at the School of Science and Math. It sounds normal now that everybody's for it. Remember the fight? Remember that? Two of the last three years the highest scores in the nation on ACT were at the Oklahoma School of Science and Math, created by Senator Williams.

I'm going to stop here, and just ask you to stand and let us give you a round of applause for the creation of that wonderful facility.

On that high note let me now go to, for many of you, a low note. Ole Mike Fair over here, 28 years, got here in '68? '66. I can never get that right. I was four that year, when he got here. You can be mad at him, Senator Leftwich, if you want to be. But the reason that Right to Work is the law in Oklahoma today is not Governor Keating, not others who are for it. It was his dedication to that issue. And I disagree with it. I don't agree with it. I think it's not right. Doesn't matter what I think. Fact of the matter is: His perseverance saw to it there was a vote of the people. And they said, "We're for that." Mike Fair, congratulations for your work over 28 years.

We're close to being finished, I promise you.

Herb Rozell. Twenty-eight years when he leaves here in 2004. There would not be, members, a community corrections program, that now we're all for, if he had not started a decade ago saying it makes sense not to lock up just petty offenders and drug offenders, there's a smarter way to do it. And he battled on that for a decade. And we now have that as law. And one other thing: I stood near that wall in May of 1990, for the new members, when House Bill 1017 passed. And the presiding officer right here was Herb Rozell. That's when we passed that. Since that time we've done things we should do for offenders that would not have happened, sir, without your help and leadership. And I thank you, very much.

Jerry Smith, Senator Smith for 32 years when he leaves here in 2004. As all you know, Senator Smith has worried himself sick, my notes say, about court clerks. That's not fair. Sally is somebody who reminds Senator Smith of the court clerk's responsibility. But here's the truth: The court system is better in Oklahoma, dramatically, because of his work for three decades to ensure that the court system is what it should be, fair to all citizens, properly funded, and maintained. Senator Smith -- many of you do not know this -- was the chairman of the Appropriations Subcommittee when I got to the House in 1978. Only republican in the history of the State to chair an Appropriations Subcommittee of the house. And now he's the only republican to ever chair a standing committee of the State Senate. And I think we owe him a round of applause for that. Don't screw it up. He was also a Minority Leader in 1987 and '88, the time Senator Williamson is trying to forget, because Henry Bellman made him raise taxes. Some of us remember that fact.

Now, Senator Ford, 38 years of service in the House and the Senate. Some days I find him, Senator Taylor, as the most wonderful, agreeable person that I get an e-mail from so I don't have to talk to him. Other days, when he confronts me and says we need to add a seventh, and eighth, and ninth floor, and put paintings in it, he's a bit of a challenge. All of us will soon be forgotten, not Senator Ford. This building is his heritage, the rotunda, the second, third, fourth floors. Give credit to Governor Keating for the dome. But, Senator Ford, we owe you, and all generations to come, the beautiful, wonderful Capitol that we get to enjoy today. And I thank you, sir.

And, finally, love him, hate him. In debate he's my favorite person to listen to, Senator Gene Stipe. He is the senior legislator in the country out of 7,460. He has 54 years of service. He is the reason we have term limits. He is the poster boy for that. And at other events I've had this little story about how Senator Stipe has figured out a way to come back after 2004, but I think this particular gathering is not the right place to convey that. But I assure you, he will be back in 2005. You all will be amazed. He's got a plan. He will fight you tooth and toenail for little people. Here's why: His daddy was a coal miner who died at age 86. His total, complete commitment is to those people. You're going to get angry with him some days. I have been. The only time I was threatened to get whipped in the House was in 1987, when I looked up and this very large man came over and had a few words for me in the House. Senator Stipe. Terrified me. I resigned that day from the House, in the hopes that he'd never come after me again. He knows what's important. So as we have our debates and discussions about taxes, and kids, and old folks, it's important that we listen to this gentleman who has 54 years of service in this building. I commend you, sir.

Here's where we are. I have to, rightly, move on now. Our freshmen -- freshmen, please stand. Not looking for a round of applause, but I ask the freshmen to stand. We ask you to bring your energy, your exuberance, and probably your touch of impatience to this body. That's what you should do. I ask you to now be seated.

I now ask the senior members that I have talked about, that have to leave this body with 334 years of experience, would you please stand. I ask you, you members, to bring your wisdom, and wit, and battlefield experience to this group of eight new members.

I ask you new members to extend to them the courtesy of listening, of exploring their ideas. And to the senior members, I ask you to not go short-term on me and decide that the only important thing is to play golf. I ask you to help our new eight members as we move into this transition period of 2004, so that this body, as Senator Stipe has always said, the continuing body, will be the body that the people of Oklahoma will respect. I ask you now to be seated.

My final three, quick comments. Here's what I promise you: I will push us, as a body, to make a difference in the lives of our citizens, especially to two groups: first, our kids, and, second, our senior citizens. Second, I will tell you that I will ask that we conduct our business in a way that brings pride into this chamber, Senator Horner, so the citizens are proud of what we do, and not ashamed of us. And, third, I'll work as hard as I know how to work to keep our kids in Oklahoma, these little ones, so that they will have their jobs in Oklahoma, your kids and grandkids. And for those that have left Oklahoma, I hope we set an environment where they will want to come back to our great state.

You've been very patient with me. I apologize for going on so long. Carol told me that one of the great risks of this deal is that I talk as long as Senator Taylor. I've done that, and so sorry.

Thank you.

RULE 12-19. AFTER ADOPTION OF MOTION TO ADJOURN. Once a motion to adjourn when the desk is clear has been adopted, no motion shall be considered from the floor of the Senate, whether by unanimous consent or otherwise.

RULE 12-20. SINE DIE ADJOURNMENT. B. If no such motion is made on the third succeeding legislative day, then no reconsideration shall be permitted.

C. If the Senate refuses to reconsider or if, upon reconsideration, affirms the first decision, no further consideration shall be in order.

D. For adoption, a motion to reconsider the final vote on a bill or resolution or on the emergency clause or special election feature or other special feature must be approved by a majority of the members of the Senate.

E. A motion to reconsider any other action by the Senate must be made by a Senator who voted in the majority and shall be disposed of on the same day it is lodged. The motion to reconsider shall be decided by a majority of those voting on the question.

VOTING

A. The voting machine shall be used to record the vote whenever a roll call vote is taken on any question. The machine shall also be used to determine the presence or absence of a quorum. The voting machine shall be under the control of the Presiding Officer and shall be operated by a clerk designated by the Presiding Officer.

B. During any roll call, every Senator present shall vote. During a roll call, the Presiding Officer shall request every Senator in the chamber who has not voted to vote. If any Senator so requested fails to vote, the Presiding Officer shall, upon declaring the roll, order that said Senator be shown as voting "NO" on the question. Said order shall be printed in the Journal directly following the printing of the results of the roll call as reflected by the voting machine, and said "NO" vote shall be included in the determination of the passage or failure of the question. In all other cases, a Senator who fails to vote shall be shown as "excused" in the Journal.

C. On any question for which a roll call vote is not required, a roll call vote shall be in order only if requested before the question is put. Once the question has been put and a voice vote taken, the Presiding Officer shall state the side that appears to the Presiding Officer to have prevailed, and any member then may request a division, but shall not be entitled to request a roll call vote. The declaration of the vote by the Presiding Officer shall be final.

D. No Senator shall be permitted to vote or change a vote after the result has been announced by the Presiding Officer.

E. If a member's voting machine is inoperative, the member shall rise and advise the Presiding Officer of the malfunction; and the Senator will be permitted to verbally vote on the question; and the vote will then be recorded by the clerk.

F. When a division is called for, those voting in the affirmative shall rise at their seats and remain standing until counted; then those voting in the negative shall rise and stand until they are counted, whereupon the Presiding Officer shall declare the result.
