CHAPTER 1
POWER SHARING AGREEMENT

The Oklahoma State Senate has a rich history as the model of civility, stability, and leadership in our state government.

Now, as Oklahoma prepares to enter its second century, history has been made by the creation of an unprecedented 24 to 24 tie in the State Senate. The 2007 legislative session will be the first time that an equal number of Democratic and Republican state senators have been seated in this august legislative body.

While some skeptics have seen this historic equilibrium as a recipe for gridlock, we view it as an opportunity to work together to do the people's business.

Therefore, in order to ensure that the Oklahoma State Senate continues to function as the Oklahoma Legislature's center of debate and deliberation, we, the members of the Oklahoma State Senate, set forth the following agreement and pledge to conduct the people's business in a fair and impartial manner, to work in good faith and to honor both the letter and the spirit of this agreement.

1-1. PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE and CO-PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

a. One member nominated by the Democratic Party shall be elected to serve as President Pro Tempore from January 2, 2007 through June 30, 2007 and from August 1, 2007 through November 19, 2008, and shall be elected to serve as co-President Pro Tempore from July 1, 2007 through July 31, 2007.

CHAPTER 13 FLOOR PROCEDURES

RULE 13-1. PRESIDING OFFICER'S AUTHORITY. The Presiding Officer shall maintain order in the Senate. No Senator or other person shall be permitted to address the Senate without first having been recognized by the Presiding Officer.

RULE 13-2. ORDER OF CONSIDERATION OF LEGISLATION. The Majority Floor Leader, or a designee, shall determine the order in which legislation is considered by the Senate.

RULE 13-3. PLACEMENT OF MEASURES ON GENERAL ORDER.

A. All bills and resolutions reported by a committee of the Senate or referred directly to the calendar shall be placed on General Order.

B. When a committee report is filed, the clerk shall indicate on the face of the report the date and time the report was filed.

C. A bill or resolution reported from committee shall be placed on General Order at the beginning of the legislative day following the legislative day that a committee report is filed, if the report is filed not later than 4:30 p.m. If a committee report is filed after 4:30 p.m. on a legislative day, the bill or resolution shall be placed on General Order at the beginning of the second legislative day following the filing of the report.

D. Bills and resolutions referred directly to the calendar shall be placed on General Order at the beginning of the legislative day following the day of such referral.

E. A list of bills and resolutions on General Order, including a copy of the text of such bills and resolutions and the date such bills and resolutions were placed on General Order, shall be published electronically and a paper copy shall be made available each legislative day to all members of the Senate.

RULE 13-4. AMENDMENTS.

Amendments to bills or resolutions shall be in writing and shall be considered only if submitted as follows:

1. Once legislation has been placed on General Order as provided in Rule 12-3, any floor amendment to such legislation may be filed on the legislative day of such placement or the following legislative day. An amendment must be filed no later than 4:30 p.m. of a legislative day to be considered filed on such legislative day;

2. Any amendment to a floor amendment shall be filed no later than 4:30 p.m. of the legislative day following the day the floor amendment is filed; and

3. A floor amendment or an amendment to a floor amendment may be withdrawn by its author at any time before it is voted upon.

If any amendment to a bill or resolution is filed as provided in this subsection, a copy of the text of such amendment shall be provided or made available electronically to each member of the Senate and the bill or resolution shall not be voted upon until on or after the fourth legislative day following the day the legislation was placed on General Order.

This rule shall not apply to an amendment offered by the author of a bill or resolution to strike the title or enacting or resolving clause.

RULE 13-5. CONSIDERATION OF MEASURES ON GENERAL ORDER.

A. On General Order, the following procedure shall be observed:

1. Explanation of the bill or resolution by the Senate author;
2. Questions;
3. Consideration of amendments; and
4. Advancement.

B. Amendments shall be considered first in the order in which they appear in the bill or resolution; second, according to the largest sum, greatest number or most distant day for amendments appearing in the same place; and third, in the order in which they are submitted. Once an amendment is read, it shall be explained by its author, who shall then answer questions concerning the amendment. If the author of the amendment is not in attendance at the time an amendment is read, the amendment shall be considered withdrawn unless another member of the Senate has taken or immediately takes coauthorship of the amendment and provides an explanation. An amendment shall be considered a public record from the time it is placed upon the clerk's desk.

C. After the final vote on third reading of any bill or joint resolution, no amendment to the measure shall be considered, by unanimous consent or otherwise, unless the final vote and advancement of the measure are properly reconsidered according to the Senate Rules.

D. For any bill which has been recommended to the full Senate by a Senate committee with a stricken title or enacting clause, the title or enacting clause shall not be restored as part of an amendment proposing a floor substitute, but an amendment to restore the title or enacting clause may be considered separately.

RULE 13-6. ADVANCEMENT. Once a motion to advance has been adopted, the bill or resolution shall be considered engrossed and on Third Reading.

RULE 13-7. THIRD READING. Upon Third Reading of a bill or resolution, the Senate shall not consider amendments, but shall debate passage of the bill or resolution and then vote upon passage.

RULE 13-8. HOUSE AMENDMENTS. Upon receipt of House amendments to Senate bills or resolutions, the Senate author shall make a motion either to accept the amendments, in which case a successful vote on the motion shall automatically advance the bill to Fourth Reading and final passage, or to reject the amendments and request a conference with the House.

RULE 13-9. CONFERENCE COMMITTEES. The President Pro Tempore shall appoint members of the Senate to serve on conference committees with members of the House of Representatives at such times and in such numbers as the President Pro Tempore deems appropriate.

RULE 13-10. CONFERENCE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

A. Any Conference Committee Report shall be considered by the Senate only when a majority of the Senate conferees and a majority of the House conferees have signed the report and only when the report is limited to matters germane to the bill or resolution. An amendment affecting a retirement system as such term is defined in the Oklahoma Pension Legislation Actuarial Analysis Act to a bill or resolution reported from a conference committee which has not been submitted to the legislative actuary as provided in the Act shall be deemed to be out of order and the bill or resolution shall be returned to the conference committee from which it was reported with instructions to remove the amendment.

If the Senate adopts a Conference Committee Report, the bill or resolution is before the Senate for Fourth Reading and final passage. If the Senate rejects a Conference Committee Report or a motion to adopt the report fails, the bill or resolution shall be returned to the conference committee. Upon a report by the Senate conferees that the conferees cannot agree, the bill or resolution reverts to its former status of consideration of House Amendments to Senate bills or resolutions.

B. The committee report proposed by the Senate author of a measure considered by the General Conference Committee on Appropriations may not be amended during the committee meeting at which the measure is considered.

RULE 13-11. FOURTH READING. Upon Fourth Reading of a bill or resolution, debate shall be in order on final passage of the bill or resolution, after which the vote shall occur on final passage. After final passage of a bill or resolution, it shall be signed by the Presiding Officer in open session.

RULE 13-12. COMMITTEE REPORTS ON EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS. Committee reports on Executive Nominations may be combined by the Majority Floor Leader for consideration by the Senate. At the request of any member, however, a nominee shall be separated from the combined report and considered individually by the Senate. A majority vote of the members of the Senate shall be required for adoption of a combined report.

RULE 13-13. OTHER COMMITTEE REPORTS. Committee reports neither on legislation nor on Executive Nominations shall be filed with the Secretary of the Senate and explained by the chair of the committee making the report, whereupon the Senate may consider any action called for in the report.

RULE 13-14. FIRST READING. A bill or resolution shall be considered introduced upon First Reading and shall automatically be advanced to Second Reading.

RULE 13-15. SECOND READING.

A. The Second Reading of a bill or resolution shall occur the next legislative day following the First Reading. Upon or after Second Reading of a bill or resolution, the same shall be assigned for committee consideration or assigned directly to the calendar. All bills carrying appropriations which are referred to any committee other than the Appropriations Committee shall, immediately upon a report by the committee to which referred, be referred to the Appropriations Committee.

B. All “shell bills”, except for appropriation bills as defined in Rule 5-7, and except for a bill which is exempt from Senate Rule 17-1, shall be assigned to the Rules Committee. For purposes of this rule a “shell bill” shall mean a measure which does not make a substantive change in the law.

C. After preparation of a committee substitute which proposes a substantive change in the law, a shell bill which has been assigned to the Rules Committee may be withdrawn from the Rules Committee and assigned to another committee. No shell bill, except for appropriation bills as defined in Rule 5-7, and except for a bill which is exempt from Senate Rule 17-1, shall be reported out of a committee until it has been amended to include a substantive change in the law.

RULE 13-16. DEBATE. When a question subject to debate is before the Senate, a motion to limit the time for debate shall be in order, even if debate already has begun. The motion shall fix the time limits to be allowed for and against the motion, provided that in no case shall the total debate allotted to each side be less than one-half hour. If such motion is successful, the Presiding Officer shall cause the time limits to be enforced and shall divide the time equally for each side of the question. If the motion is once rejected on a question being debated, it can only be adopted with the approval of two-thirds of those voting.

RULE 13-17. ADJOURNMENT. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order except when the motion shall have been the last voted on and no business is transacted thereafter.

RULE 13-18. AFTER ADOPTION OF MOTION TO ADJOURN. Once a motion to adjourn when the desk is clear has been adopted, no motion shall be considered from the floor of the Senate, whether by unanimous consent or otherwise.

RULE 13-19. SINE DIE ADJOURNMENT. The date and time of sine die adjournment of the Senate shall be fixed by motion or resolution; provided, that once the date and time of such sine die adjournment has arrived, no further business shall be conducted by the Senate, and the Presiding Officer shall declare the Senate adjourned sine die.

RULE 13-20. CORRECTION OF LANGUAGE. A. The Secretary of the Senate shall, at the direction of the President Pro Tempore and with the approval of the Senate author, have the authority to correct nonsubstantive errors in the language of any bill or resolution at the time the same is engrossed or enrolled. A detailed record of all such corrections shall be maintained by the Secretary and printed in the Journal.

B. The Title of a bill or resolution shall be made to conform to the text, unless the same has been ordered stricken. A stricken title shall be shown in brackets. The ballot title of a bill or resolution proposing a state question shall be made to conform to the text. The Enacting Clause shall be a part of every bill unless the same shall have been ordered stricken. A stricken Enacting Clause shall be shown by striking through the words of the Enacting Clause.

RULE 13-21. WITHDRAWAL FROM COMMITTEE. Any bill or resolution may be withdrawn from any committee of the Senate upon a two-thirds vote of the members of the Senate. Any bill or resolution so withdrawn shall be on General Order.

RULE 13-22. RECONSIDERATION. The final vote on Third Reading or Fourth Reading of any bill or joint resolution or on the emergency clause or special election feature or other special feature of any bill or joint resolution may be reconsidered only if a member of the Senate serves notice on the same day the vote to be reconsidered is taken. Once such notice is served, the following procedures shall be observed:

A. In anticipation of the closing days of a regular session or a deadline for third reading and final passage of a measure in the Senate, a majority of the members of the Senate may vote that all motions to reconsider made thereafter shall be disposed of on the same day such notice is served.

B. Except as heretofore provided, the member serving notice for reconsideration shall not be permitted to make the motion to reconsider on the day notice is served, but shall have the exclusive right to make such a motion on the next two succeeding legislative days; provided, that on the third succeeding legislative day, any member of the Senate shall have the right to make such a motion. If no such motion is made on the third succeeding legislative day, then no reconsideration shall be permitted.

C. If the Senate refuses to reconsider or if, upon reconsideration, affirms the first decision, no further consideration shall be in order.

D. For adoption, a motion to reconsider the final vote on a bill or resolution or on the emergency clause or special election feature or other special feature must be approved by a majority of the members of the Senate.

E. A motion to reconsider any other action by the Senate must be made by a Senator who voted in the majority and shall be disposed of on the same day it is lodged. The motion to reconsider shall be decided by a majority of those voting on the question.

F. It shall not be in order for the Senate, by suspension of the Rules or by any other means, to reconsider in the Second Regular Session of a Legislature the vote by which any bill or joint resolution was defeated in the First Regular Session.

RULE 13-23. OVERRIDES OF VETOES. When a bill or resolution is returned to the Senate because of veto by the Governor, a motion to vote to override the veto shall be in order at any time.

RULE 13-24. CORRECTION OF INACCURACIES. The Senate Service Staff is authorized to correct misspelled words, incorrect citations, typographical errors, repeated words and other similar errors when engrossing or enrolling Senate bills or joint resolutions, or Senate amendments to engrossed House bills or joint resolutions and when preparing committee reports and floor versions of Senate bills or joint resolutions.

RULE 13-25. CORRECTION OF FORM OF BILLS

A. When engrossing or enrolling Senate bills or joint resolutions, or Senate amendments to engrossed House bills or joint resolutions and when preparing committee reports and floor versions of Senate bills or joint resolutions, the Senate Service Staff is authorized to:

1. Remove sections from a bill or joint resolution labeled as amendatory sections but which consist entirely of existing law and contain no amendments to the existing law;

2. Incorporate amendments to sections of law in the bill or joint resolution which are contained in measures enacted previously during the same legislative session and amending the same sections of law and repeal such previous versions of the section at issue if, in the opinion of the General Counsel, or a staff attorney designated by the Chief of Staff, the incorporation of such amendments and repeal of the previous version would clearly not conflict with the amendments contained in the measure at issue;

3. Modify sections of such measures which provide for a measure to become effective on July 1 or a date earlier than ninety days after the date of expected sine die adjournment to read to reflect an effective date of ninety days after the date of sine die adjournment, or to delete such sections, if the emergency clause has failed to receive the required number of votes for passage;

4. Delete sections of such measures which provide for a measure to become effective on a date prior to such engrossment or enrollment.

RULE 14-8. VOTE REQUIRED. Unless otherwise provided, a motion shall be declared adopted if it is approved by a majority of the members present and voting thereon.

CHAPTER 15 VOTING

RULE 15-1. MANNER OF VOTING. All votes of the Senate shall be by voice vote, division or roll call vote subject to the following:

A. The voting machine shall be used to record the vote whenever a roll call vote is taken on any question. The machine shall also be used to determine the presence or absence of a quorum. In the event the machine is not operating properly, all roll call votes and determinations of quorums may be taken by calling the roll. The voting machine shall be under the control of the Presiding Officer and shall be operated by a clerk designated by the Presiding Officer.

B. During any roll call, every Senator present shall vote. During a roll call, the Presiding Officer shall request every Senator in the chamber who has not voted to vote. If any Senator so requested fails to vote, the Presiding Officer shall, upon declaring the roll, order that said Senator be shown as voting "NO" on the question. Said order shall be printed in the Journal directly following the printing of the results of the roll call as reflected by the voting machine, and said "NO" vote shall be included in the determination of the passage or failure of the question. In all other cases, a Senator who fails to vote shall be shown as "excused" in the Journal.

C. On any question for which a roll call vote is not required, a roll call vote shall be in order only if requested before the question is put. Once the question has been put and a voice vote taken, the Presiding Officer shall state the side that appears to the Presiding Officer to have prevailed, and any member then may request a division, but shall not be entitled to request a roll call vote. The declaration of the vote by the Presiding Officer shall be final.

D. No Senator shall be permitted to vote or change a vote after the result has been announced by the Presiding Officer.

E. If a member's voting machine is inoperative, the member shall rise and advise the Presiding Officer of the malfunction; and the Senator will be permitted to verbally vote on the question; and the vote will then be recorded by the clerk.

F. When a division is called for, those voting in the affirmative shall rise at their seats and remain standing until counted; then those voting in the negative shall rise and stand until they are counted, whereupon the Presiding Officer shall declare the result.

B. Simple and concurrent resolutions pending in the Senate at the final adjournment of the First Regular Session of the 51st Legislature shall not carry over for consideration during the Second Regular Session.

CODE OF CONDUCT AND STANDARDS FOR MEMBERS OF THE SENATE AND STAFF

1. Coat and tie shall be worn by male members and appropriate attire shall be worn by female members in the chamber during sessions of the Senate.
2. Each Senator is personally responsible for his or her own staff. All other staff members of the Senate are under the authority of the Chief of Staff. Complaints pertaining to employees, either personal staff or Senate staff, should be made to the proper authority rather than to the individual. Under no circumstances should complaints pertaining to employees be made on the floor of the Senate, in committee meetings or in other public forums.
3. (a) On the floor during session and in committee, members should endeavor to be congenial and complimentary. Members should avoid personal attacks and dealing in personalities.
(b) During public occasions away from the Capitol, members should endeavor to keep personalities out of their discussions and deal with programs, not personalities.

10. The President Pro Tempore (or the Majority Floor Leader) shall designate those Senate employees who shall be granted privileges of the floor during any session of the Senate, said employees to be limited to those whose work requires their presence. Any member desiring to bring a guest to the floor of the Senate shall first notify the Majority Floor Leader. No such guest shall enter the chamber until privileges of the floor have been granted pursuant to Rule 11-9.
11. No person other than a member of the Senate shall cause materials to be distributed on each desk in the Senate chamber without first having obtained approval by the Majority Floor Leader. The sponsoring Senator will be identified. Any material so distributed shall be considered a public record from the time of such distribution.
12. The President Pro Tempore shall designate persons to act as Sergeants-at-Arms for the Senate, who shall have responsibility of serving legal processes and enforcing Rules and policies of the Senate.
13. Any member who feels that the standards of the Senate are being violated by either a member of the Senate or the staff should seek redress by submitting a complaint to the President Pro Tempore concerning the violation. MESSAGE OF
GOVERNOR BRAD HENRY

*State of the State Address
Governor Brad Henry
February 4, 2008*

Members of the House and Senate, Lt. Governor Askins, President Pro Tempores Morgan and Coffee, Acting Speaker Blackwell, Honorable Justices of the Supreme Court, distinguished Cabinet and elected officials, honored guests and my fellow Oklahomans and friends:

2007 tells the story of Oklahoma. Perhaps no other year has so clearly illustrated the vibrancy and vitality of our great state. Our Centennial shined a national and international spotlight on a strong, spirited, proud people, and we dazzled with a brilliant birthday bash like no other.

The Centennial was a glorious and magnificent milestone. It was an opportunity to retell the spectacular story of Oklahoma, the story of our compassion and ingenuity, of our indomitable spirit.

It was an opportunity to brag on all this state has accomplished and how far we have come in a short 100 years. And it was an opportunity to showcase the brilliance of Oklahoma in the 21st century.

But 2007 was marked by more than our Centennial. In a year in which our state endured a record nine presidential disaster declarations, we saw another noble characteristic of Oklahoma: our resilience.

Oklahomans have witnessed time and again that challenge and opportunity go hand-in-hand. We Oklahomans don't shy away from a problem. We meet challenges head-on, with strength, grace and tenacity.

Such traits are evident in the number of Oklahomans stationed overseas in Iraq and Afghanistan. Today, more than 3,300 members of our National Guard and Reserves have placed themselves in harm's way to serve our nation.

That's why Oklahomans from all walks of life came together during Christmas and donated their time and money to "Operation Holiday Homecoming," a program that enabled the Thunderbirds of the famed 45th to spend the holidays at home with their families before deploying to Iraq.

Families are the heart and soul of Oklahoma, and it's the love of family and friends that will help sustain our troops during this difficult time. I know I speak for everyone in this chamber when I say our hearts and prayers are with our troops and their families. We salute them.

And, speaking of family, it is with tremendous, sincere pride that I introduce my own family. My family comforts, inspires and sustains me – my wonderful children: Leah, Laynie and Baylee; and the love of my life, a gracious and graceful First Lady, my incredible wife and equal partner, Kim.

Now, in the first year of our next 100 years, Oklahoma faces a new set of challenges and opportunities. The centennial is over, but the story of Oklahoma continues – a story that is bold and reinvigorated, a new beginning for a state constantly evolving.

What we do now will set the course for our future. It's time to build on the successes that you and I have accomplished together during the past five years. Our actions this session will buttress the unshakable foundation of our second century of statehood.

As we chart Oklahoma's future, we must strengthen education, the cornerstone of economic prosperity, cultural richness and quality of life. We've made great gains, building the best preschool programs in the country and bolstering academic excellence with the ACE initiative. Now, nearly 90 percent of the class of 2011 is enrolled in the college-bound ACE curriculum. Middle schools with math labs created by ACE have seen their math scores jump by an incredible 20 percent.

But there is more to do. It is undeniable that our classroom teachers play a central role. Few professions are more critical in shaping future generations, and we are fortunate to have many of the finest educators in the nation. Oklahoma routinely ranks among the top states for teacher preparation, accountability and national board certification.

It's no wonder, then, that Texas and other states have long recruited many of our best educators. That's why we made a promise to our teachers and committed to a five-year plan to raise teacher pay to match the regional average by this year.

We're almost there. The average teacher salary in our state is only $1,200 below the regional average. We must keep our promise to the teachers, parents and children of Oklahoma.

Among our ranks of great teachers is Valorie Lewis, a third-grade teacher in Stigler. Her story is truly inspirational. Raised in utter poverty, Valorie and her family struggled simply to survive – homeless and not knowing when their next meal would come.

Valorie knows all too well the challenges of an at-risk childhood. That experience is what drove her to become a teacher. And her success in the classroom has been extraordinary. In fact, USA Today recently named her one of the top 20 teachers in the entire nation.

Valorie is committed to the children of Oklahoma, and we must keep our commitment to her and raise teacher pay to the regional average. Please help me honor Valorie Lewis, who is with us in the gallery today.

As leaders, it is our duty to look beyond the present day and plan for the future. The length of Oklahoma's school year lags behind most other states and industrialized countries. That's why I propose we adopt the recommendations of Superintendent Sandy Garrett and the Time Reform Task Force and expand the school year by five days. This small step will help prepare our children to be more competitive academically.

A longer school year, increased accountability and higher teacher pay are of little use if students don't stay in school. There are many reasons why a student might drop out, but there is no reason so compelling that they must drop out.

Whatever it is that leads a student to believe that quitting school is the only option, we must have the resources in place to help students through those issues and see them complete high school.

In every community in Oklahoma, there are people with the education, dedication and experience to guide students to graduation. Our sense of community is among the greatest strengths of our state, so why not invest that strength in our students? It's time to create a graduation coach program so every student can succeed.

In the arena of higher education, we must build on the momentum of recent years. Our successes have been astounding. Oklahoma's college graduates have increased by nearly 25 percent since 2000. And 90 percent of our college graduates are staying in Oklahoma to work and raise a family.

Let's continue that momentum. It is crucial that we fully fund endowed chairs and reduce their backlog in our colleges and universities. By doing so, we will reaffirm our commitment to top-quality instruction and research in our institutions of higher learning.

A successful college experience also requires a safe campus. In the wake of last year's tragic slayings at Virginia Tech, I created the CLASS Task Force to review security at our college and CareerTech campuses. For the sake of our students and faculty, let's do everything in our power to ensure their safety and security.

Economic realities of the 21st century require innovation, boldness and a willingness to think beyond the ways we've always done things. Oklahoma's competitors are no longer simply neighboring states. Instead, our competitors are China and India and dozens of other countries around the globe.

Fortunately, we have worked diligently to diversify and grow the high-tech, high-paying jobs of tomorrow.

Results over the past five years have been dramatic: More than 127,000 new jobs; consistently low unemployment; personal income growth well above the national average; and 30-percent growth in our economy, which ranks seventh in the nation. And, according to the FDIC, our high-tech job growth alone is fifth best in the entire country.

But more work remains. Growing our economy means making smart, strategic investments. That's one reason we nearly doubled funding for the Oklahoma Center for the Advancement of Science and Technology.

Every dollar we investment in OCAST brings an incredible $27 in return. That is truly remarkable, and well worth us increasing our commitment to OCAST this year.

Similarly, we established the Opportunity Fund and EDGE Research Endowment so Oklahoma can act quickly and decisively in securing the best jobs of today and tomorrow.

However, even the most visionary idea means nothing if we turn a blind eye to it. In 2006, we appropriated $150 million to the EDGE Endowment. It was a solid start, but our commitment is to create a $1 billion fund. The endowment, which will cultivate cutting-edge research, is too important to languish.

This year, let's ensure a permanent funding mechanism so the endowment can do what we envisioned: Fund the research that will create high-tech, good-paying jobs for a diversified, dynamic Oklahoma.

While much of the nation faces a looming economic downturn, we in Oklahoma are fortunate. Our economy is strong, buoyed by the oil and gas industry.

Domestic oil and gas producers are a key cornerstone of our state's economy. They employ thousands of our citizens, and growth in the industry has boosted Oklahoma's economy and enabled us to devote additional resources to vital state needs.

But that tremendous industry does not negate the need to diversify our economy or do our part in the drive for renewable energies.

Last year, we took a critical step toward energy independence, environmental protection and improved national security. In creating the Oklahoma Bioenergy Center, we hastened making our state a global leader in biofuels and bioenergy research by capitalizing on the cutting-edge work being conducted at OU, OSU and the Samuel Roberts Noble Foundation.

Already, the Bioenergy Center is showing signs of what promises to be an amazing future. In only its first few months, the center has produced a 100-percent return on our initial investment of $10 million and shows potential to revitalize our rural economy. This year, let's continue our funding commitment to this vital mission.

Our Centennial celebration underscored another truth about Oklahoma: This is a diverse, modern, creative state.

The Oklahoma Creativity Project, championed by civic leaders like OSU's new president, Burns Hargis, seeks to harness and grow that creative energy, enhancing both the cultural landscape and the entrepreneurial economy of our state. Let's build on this forward-thinking initiative that will enrich our lives and our livelihoods.

The heritage of Oklahoma and that of Native America are inextricably linked, so profound is the influence of the tribal nations headquartered here. The American Indian Cultural Center and Museum, currently under construction in Oklahoma City, promises to be a boon for tourism in our state as well as a fitting testament to the impact of the nearly 70 Native American tribes with Oklahoma ties. This year, we should authorize a $45 million bond issue to ensure the completion of this long-awaited, world-class facility.

A safe, dependable network of roads and bridges is also critical to economic growth. Together, we have laid the foundation for a modern transportation infrastructure, with a commitment to provide $2 billion over 10 years for roads and bridges.

But we cannot afford complacency. It's critical that we continue our progress and increase funding for transportation so we can literally pave the way to a prosperous Oklahoma.

Our future prosperity depends on a healthy people, and so we must boost our efforts to ensure a healthy Oklahoma.

Good health should not be dictated by where a person happens to live. Oklahoma's ambulance services are in a crisis, especially in our rural areas where nearly 50 EMS operations have closed in recent years.

Some communities have no ambulance service at all. This is not about quality of life; it's about life itself. Let's join forces this year to ensure the survival of ambulance services throughout our state.

Oklahoma is not immune to the nationwide epidemic of childhood obesity. Far too many of our children are overweight or obese. And that can lead to a host of illnesses such as heart disease, cancer, hypertension and diabetes.

We've taken positive steps over the past several years by raising nutritional standards in school lunchrooms and guaranteeing that students have healthy options in vending machines. But there is more work to do.

Two years ago, we enacted legislation requiring at least 60 minutes of weekly physical activity in elementary schools. That's a good start, given the sedentary lifestyle of many children. But a long life requires a life-long healthy lifestyle. This year, I urge you to pass legislation to double the physical education requirement to 120 minutes each week.

The first duty of government is to protect its people, and we have done that. But a recent audit shows in stark detail what many have known for years – our prisons are deteriorating, understaffed and overcrowded.

The Department of Corrections has done a great job with the resources allotted. But those resources have never been adequate, and each year the department must come back to the Legislature to plead for more money – not to improve facilities or hire more corrections officers, but simply to make ends meet.

This situation is inexcusable. It presents an immediate danger to the men and women who work in our prisons, and it threatens the safety of our citizens.

We must be tough on crime, and, at the same time, we must be smart on crime. That means continuing to build on innovative strategies such as drug courts, mental health courts and substance abuse treatment programs.

Most important, it means acting responsibly. This year, I again call on the Legislature to adequately fund the Department of Corrections so this agency can truly perform its central mission – keeping Oklahomans safe.

All of our state employees work hard to serve the public every day, often without praise or acknowledgement, and at salaries lagging behind the private sector and nearly every other state. They are the best of the best. For their exemplary effort and hard work on behalf of Oklahoma, let's see to it that state employees get a 5-percent pay raise this session.

Our charge as leaders is to lay the foundation for the future. 2007 was the year of our Centennial, and 2008 represents a new beginning for Oklahoma, a time to look forward with clarity and vision.

With the same enthusiasm that marked our celebration of the last century, we must act today to achieve those things that will be celebrated 100 years from now.

We cannot move forward by pushing back. We must set aside partisan bickering and reactionary politics. The people of Oklahoma have nothing to gain from petty quarrels, and our time is too precious to waste in gridlock. Press releases are short-lived, but cooperation and constructive action resonate for generations.

We will face disagreements, but it is the civil exchange of ideas and respect for diverse viewpoints that make our democracy and our state strong. Together, we will find solutions that benefit all Oklahomans.

We will face challenges, but we Oklahomans are resilient and innovative. We will persevere, as we have many times before, through our strength, wisdom and characteristic compassion for friend and stranger alike.

One of Oklahoma's greatest sons, Will Rogers, once cautioned, "Don't let yesterday use up too much of today."

Good advice. We must put aside our past differences and work together for the common good of all Oklahomans. We must follow Will's sound advice and look to the future.

The year of our Centennial is over. We have celebrated the history and heritage that gives us our identity. We have praised the men and women whose dreams and determination built the state we love.

It is time to look to the future. That future begins today.

God bless you, and God bless Oklahoma.

Upon motion of Representative Piatt, the Joint Session was ordered dissolved at the hour of 1:25 p.m.
