RULE 7-7. PROCEDURES. The following procedures shall be observed by all legislative committees of the Senate:

A. Subject to such exceptions as are provided hereinafter, committees of the Senate shall comply with provisions of the Oklahoma Open Meeting Act. A copy of all notices required by said Act shall be provided to the Chief of Staff, who shall designate the appropriate place for such notices to be posted. The Chief of Staff shall cause to be posted one such notice on the bulletin board of the Senate located in a place in the Capitol accessible to the public and on the Senate web site and shall take such other actions as may be deemed appropriate to provide adequate notice to the public.

C. The agenda for any meeting of a committee shall be set by the chair and shall include the date, time and place of the meeting. A copy of the agenda shall be provided to members of the committee and to authors of legislation to be considered by the committee at least twenty-four (24) hours prior to the meeting unless otherwise approved by the President Pro Tempore. An agenda for a meeting scheduled to meet prior to or during the first three days of session may reflect a measure for which assignment to the committee is anticipated, and the committee may act upon the measure; provided, if the measure is not assigned to the committee during the first three days of session, any committee action on the measure taken prior to or during those days shall be of no force or effect.

D. A quorum shall be present when any committee votes on any matter. Any member of a committee may request a quorum call at any time the committee is meeting. A number equal to a majority of the appointed members of the committee shall constitute a quorum.

E. The chair, or in the chair's absence the vice-chair, of the committee, or a designee, shall preside at meetings of the committee.

3. The Senate author shall be given the opportunity to answer questions put by members of the committee or other persons recognized by the chair.

4. The chair shall provide opportunity for presentation of amendments to the legislation by the Senate author or by any member of the committee. Any amendment must be seconded to receive further consideration. Provided, the Senate author or any member of the committee offering a committee substitute must submit the proposed committee substitute in writing or electronically to the chair no later than noon on the legislative day before the meeting of the committee. The chair may, at his or her discretion, waive the deadline set forth in this rule. When a committee substitute is submitted, the chair may approve the substitute to be heard by the committee and the committee substitute shall be considered a public record from the time of such approval.

5. Amendments and motions may be adopted by a voice vote; provided, however, that the Senate author, or any member of the committee, may require a roll call vote.

6. Amendments shall be considered in the order they appear in the legislation, or in the order they are presented to the clerk of the committee; provided, an amendment to restore the title or enacting clause shall be considered after disposition of all other amendments. The chair shall resolve any conflict resulting from claimed priority of presentation.

7. The author of an amendment shall explain the amendment and be afforded the opportunity to answer questions about the amendment put by members of the committee, the author of the legislation, or other persons recognized by the chair.

8. The chair may recognize any person for debate or comment on the proposed legislation or amendments thereto. The chair may limit the amount of time for any such debate or comment.

9. The vote on a recommendation by the committee to the Senate concerning a legislative measure shall be by recorded roll call and shall require a majority vote of a quorum of the members of the committee for passage. The only permitted recommendations to the Senate on a legislative measure are “DO PASS” or “DO PASS, AS AMENDED”. A tie vote in a committee on the motion of “DO PASS” or “DO PASS, AS AMENDED” shall result in failure of the motion. All committee votes reflecting the votes of each member present and voting on the motion of “DO PASS” or “DO PASS, AS AMENDED” shall be entered in the Journal.

G. Except for legislation containing appropriations, all legislation originating in the Senate which is considered by a Senate committee shall contain an Enacting or Resolving Clause and both a Senate and a House author.

H. The chair may assign to any subcommittee any legislation, proposal or inquiry; provided, however, no subcommittee shall be permitted to report directly to the Senate, but rather shall report to the parent committee.

I. No person shall cause materials to be distributed at any committee meeting without first having obtained approval of the chair. The person causing the materials to be distributed shall be identified in writing on the face of such materials. Any document or other material distributed to all members of a committee of the Senate during a meeting which is open to the public shall be considered a public record from the time of such distribution.

CHAPTER 8 COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

RULE 8-1. COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE. Without prior notice, the Senate may, by motion approved by a majority of the members of the Senate, declare itself a Committee of the Whole, at which time the President Pro Tempore or a member designated by the President Pro Tempore shall chair the Committee of the Whole. Rules applicable to other Senate committees shall be applied to the Committee of the Whole, except those rules relating to notice.

RULE 8-2. REPORTS. Once the Committee of the Whole has reported a bill or resolution “DO PASS” or “DO PASS, AS AMENDED”, to the Senate, that bill or resolution shall be considered on Third Reading and shall be voted upon without consideration of amendments or debate.

If an executive nomination is not approved during the regular session in which it is submitted, it shall be deemed rejected. Amendments shall be considered in the order in which they are submitted unless otherwise directed by the Majority Floor Leader; provided, a floor substitute offered by the author of the measure shall be considered first, and an amendment to restore a title or enacting or resolving clause shall be considered after disposition of all other amendments. If a floor substitute is adopted, the Secretary of the Senate shall conform previously submitted amendments to the measure to the floor substitute, if practicable. Once an amendment is read, it shall be explained by its author, who may then answer questions concerning the amendment. If the author of the amendment is not in attendance at the time an amendment is read, the amendment shall be considered withdrawn unless another member of the Senate coauthors the amendment and provides an explanation. An amendment shall be considered a public record from the time it is placed upon the clerk's desk.

C. After the final vote on third reading of any bill or joint resolution, no amendment to the measure shall be considered, by unanimous consent or otherwise, unless the final vote and advancement of the measure are properly reconsidered according to the Senate Rules.

D. For any bill which has been recommended to the full Senate by a Senate committee with a stricken title or enacting clause, the title or enacting clause shall not be restored as part of an amendment proposing a floor substitute, but an amendment to restore the title or enacting clause may be considered separately.

RULE 12-6. ADVANCEMENT. Once a motion to advance has been adopted, the bill or resolution shall be considered engrossed and on Third Reading.

RULE 12-7. THIRD READING. Upon Third Reading of a bill or resolution, the Senate shall not consider amendments, but shall debate passage of the bill or resolution and then vote upon passage.

RULE 12-8. HOUSE AMENDMENTS. Upon receipt of House amendments to Senate bills or resolutions, the Senate author shall make a motion either to accept the amendments, in which case a successful vote on the motion shall automatically advance the bill to Fourth Reading and final passage, or to reject the amendments and request a conference with the House.

RULE 12-9. CONFERENCE COMMITTEES. The President Pro Tempore shall appoint members of the Senate to serve on conference committees with members of the House of Representatives at such times and in such numbers as the President Pro Tempore deems appropriate.

RULE 12-10. CONFERENCE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

A. Any Conference Committee Report shall be considered by the Senate only when a majority of the Senate conferees and a majority of the House conferees have signed the report and only when the report is limited to matters germane to the bill or resolution.

If the Senate adopts a Conference Committee Report, the bill or resolution shall be before the Senate for Fourth Reading and final passage. If the Senate rejects a Conference Committee Report or a motion to adopt the report fails, the bill or resolution shall be returned to the conference committee. Upon a report by the Senate conferees that the conferees cannot agree, the bill or resolution reverts to its former status of consideration of House Amendments to Senate bills or resolutions.

B. The conference committee report proposed by the Senate author of a measure considered by the General Conference Committee on Appropriations may not be amended during the committee meeting at which the measure is considered.

RULE 12-11. FOURTH READING. Upon Fourth Reading of a bill or resolution, debate shall be in order on final passage of the bill or resolution, after which the vote shall occur on final passage. After final passage of a bill or resolution, it shall be signed by the Presiding Officer in open session.

RULE 12-12. COMMITTEE REPORTS ON EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS.

Committee reports on Executive Nominations may be combined by the Majority Floor Leader for consideration by the Senate. At the request of any member, however, a nominee shall be separated from the combined report and considered individually by the Senate. A majority vote of the members of the Senate shall be required for adoption of a combined report.

RULE 12-13. OTHER COMMITTEE REPORTS. Committee reports on matters other than legislation or Executive Nominations shall be filed with the Secretary of the Senate and explained by the chair of the committee making the report, whereupon the Senate may consider any action called for in the report.

RULE 12-14. FIRST READING. A bill or resolution shall be considered introduced upon First Reading and shall automatically be advanced to Second Reading.

RULE 12-15. SECOND READING.

A. The Second Reading of a bill or resolution shall occur the next legislative day following the First Reading. Upon or after Second Reading of a bill or resolution, the same shall be assigned for committee consideration or assigned directly to the calendar. All bills carrying appropriations which are referred to any committee other than the Appropriations Committee shall, immediately upon a report by the committee to which referred, be referred to the Appropriations Committee. Any bill or resolution which is determined to affect the receipt, expenditure or budgeting of state funds or funds under the control of an entity created by state law may be double-assigned to a committee other than the Appropriations Committee or the Finance Committee and then to the Appropriations Committee or Finance Committee.

B. All “shell bills”, except for appropriation bills as defined in Rule 5-6, and except for a bill which is exempt from Senate Rule 16-1, shall be assigned to the Rules Committee. For purposes of this rule a “shell bill” shall mean a measure which does not make a substantive change in the law.

C. After preparation of a committee substitute which proposes a substantive change in the law, a shell bill which has been assigned to the Rules Committee may be withdrawn from the Rules Committee and assigned to another committee. No shell bill, except for appropriation bills as defined in Rule 5-6, and except for a bill which is exempt from Senate Rule 16-1, shall be reported out of a committee until it has been amended to include a substantive change in the law.

RULE 12-16. DEBATE. When a question subject to debate is before the Senate, a motion to limit the time for debate shall be in order, even if debate already has begun. The motion shall fix the time limits to be allowed for and against the motion, provided that in no case shall the total debate allotted to each side be less than one-half hour. If such motion is successful, the Presiding Officer shall cause the time limits to be enforced and shall divide the time equally for each side of the question. If the motion is once rejected on a question being debated, it can only be adopted with the approval of two-thirds of those voting.

RULE 12-17. ADJOURNMENT. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order except when the motion shall have been the last voted on and no business is transacted thereafter.

RULE 12-18. AFTER ADOPTION OF MOTION TO ADJOURN. Once a motion to adjourn when the desk is clear has been adopted, no motion shall be considered from the floor of the Senate, whether by unanimous consent or otherwise.

RULE 12-19. SINE DIE ADJOURNMENT. The date and time of sine die adjournment of the Senate shall be fixed by motion or resolution; provided, that once the date and time of such sine die adjournment has arrived, no further business shall be conducted by the Senate, and the Presiding Officer shall declare the Senate adjourned sine die.

RULE 12-20. WITHDRAWAL FROM COMMITTEE. Any bill or resolution may be withdrawn from any committee of the Senate upon a two-thirds vote of the members of the Senate. Any bill or resolution so withdrawn shall be on General Order. The provisions of this rule shall not prevent a bill or resolution from being reassigned from one committee to another, from being assigned directly to the calendar, or from being double-assigned as provided in subsection A of Rule 12-15.

RULE 12-21. RECONSIDERATION. The final vote on Third Reading or Fourth Reading of any bill or joint resolution or on the emergency clause or special election feature or other special feature of any bill or joint resolution may be reconsidered only if a member of the Senate serves notice before any other business is considered by the Senate. Once such notice is served, the following procedures shall be observed:

A. In anticipation of the closing days of a regular session or a deadline for third reading and final passage of a measure in the Senate, a majority of the members of the Senate may vote that all motions to reconsider made thereafter shall be disposed of on the same day such notice is served, or disposed of immediately on the last Friday in May, or an earlier day set for sine die adjournment pursuant to the provisions of Rule 12-19.

B. Except as heretofore provided, the member serving notice for reconsideration shall not be permitted to make the motion to reconsider on the day notice is served, but shall have the exclusive right to make such a motion on the next two succeeding legislative days; provided, that on the third succeeding legislative day, any member of the Senate shall have the right to make such a motion. If no such motion is made on the third succeeding legislative day, then no reconsideration shall be permitted.

C. If the Senate refuses to reconsider or if, upon reconsideration, affirms the first decision, no further consideration shall be in order.

D. For adoption, a motion to reconsider the final vote on a bill or resolution or on the emergency clause or special election feature or other special feature must be approved by a majority of the members of the Senate.

E. A motion to reconsider any other action by the Senate must be made by a Senator who voted on the prevailing side before any other business is considered by the Senate and shall be disposed of on the same day it is lodged. The motion to reconsider shall be decided by a majority of those voting on the question.

F. It shall not be in order for the Senate, by suspension of the Rules or by any other means, to reconsider in the Second Regular Session of a Legislature the vote by which any bill or joint resolution was defeated in the First Regular Session.

RULE 12-22. OVERRIDES OF VETOES. When a bill or resolution is returned to the Senate because of veto by the Governor, a motion to vote to override the veto shall be in order at any time.

RULE 12-23. CORRECTIONS TO LEGISLATION.

A. The Title of a bill or resolution shall be made to conform to the text, unless the same has been ordered stricken. A stricken title shall be shown in brackets. The ballot title of a bill or resolution proposing a state question shall be made to conform to the text. The Enacting Clause shall be a part of every bill unless the same shall have been ordered stricken. A stricken Enacting Clause shall be shown by striking through the words of the Enacting Clause.

B. The Senate Service Staff is authorized to correct misspelled words, incorrect citations, typographical errors, repeated words and other similar errors when engrossing or enrolling Senate bills or joint resolutions, or Senate amendments to engrossed House bills or joint resolutions and when preparing committee reports and floor versions of Senate bills or joint resolutions.

C. When engrossing or enrolling Senate bills or joint resolutions, or Senate amendments to engrossed House bills or joint resolutions and when preparing committee reports and floor versions of Senate bills or joint resolutions, the Senate Service Staff is authorized to:

1. Remove sections from a bill or joint resolution labeled as amendatory sections but which consist entirely of existing law and contain no amendments to the existing law;

2. Incorporate amendments to sections of law in the bill or joint resolution which are contained in measures enacted previously during the same legislative session and amending the same sections of law and repeal such previous versions of the section at issue if, in the opinion of the General Counsel, or a staff attorney designated by the Chief of Staff, the incorporation of such amendments and repeal of the previous version would clearly not conflict with the amendments contained in the measure at issue;

3. Modify sections of such measures which provide for a measure to become effective on July 1 or a date earlier than ninety days after the date of expected sine die adjournment to read to reflect an effective date of ninety days after the date of sine die adjournment, or to delete such sections, if the emergency clause has failed to receive the required number of votes for passage;

4. Delete sections of such measures which provide for a measure to become effective on a date prior to such engrossment or enrollment; and

5. Include a designation of the subject of an act as provided in Section 452.9 of Title 74 of the Oklahoma Statutes.

D. The Secretary of the Senate shall, at the direction of the President Pro Tempore and with the approval of the Senate author, have the authority to correct nonsubstantive errors in the language of any bill or resolution at the time the same is engrossed or enrolled. A detailed record of all such corrections shall be maintained by the Secretary and printed in the Journal.

MESSAGE OF GOVERNOR MARY FALLIN

Elected officials, Supreme Court justices, tribal representatives and people of Oklahoma –

Let me begin by thanking you for the honor of serving as your governor and delivering this address.

The elected officials here today have a solemn duty to represent the people – their constituents – and to work to make this state a better place to live, work and raise a family.

I know all of us – Republicans and Democrats – take that responsibility seriously. Thank you for your work and your dedication to this state.

Because of the actions taken by this Legislature and, of course, because of our hardworking, innovative and resilient people, the State of this State is strong.

Everyone here today should be proud of what we have accomplished.

Together, we have overcome adversity.

In 2011, the American Dream in Oklahoma was threatened. Middle-class families and small businesses were hit hard by the national recession. And it seemed possible – even likely – that we would leave our children a less prosperous state than the one we inherited.

Our unemployment rate stood at 7.2 percent, leaving tens of thousands of Oklahomans without work.

The state faced a budget shortfall of over $500 million.

And just like the bank accounts of many Oklahoma families, our state savings had dried up. In fact, the state of Oklahoma was broke. Our Rainy Day Fund had $2.03 in it.

So, we responded.

This Legislature acted quickly and decisively, passing a series of measures to help jumpstart the economy, help working families and realign spending with fiscal realities.

We balanced the budget the old fashioned way: by prioritizing and, when necessary, making tough cuts - just like those being made by Oklahoma families.

We eliminated the red tape and bureaucracy choking small businesses.

We improved government services and eliminated waste. We retooled our state agencies – consolidating duplicative boards and commissions. We made government run more like a business – efficient, effective and customer friendly.

We passed comprehensive legal reform, minimizing frivolous lawsuits and creating an atmosphere more conducive to job growth and retention.

We were finally able to overhaul our workers' compensation system, moving from a contentious legal process to a more efficient administrative structure, a goal we had worked towards for the last decade.

We focused on education and workforce training - making sure Oklahoma schools have the high standards they need to produce students who are college, career and citizen ready.

We've also shown compassion and care for those who have served our country and those who have faced unique challenges. We've offered a hand up, not a handout.

We have worked with the Legislature to increase oversight of our Department of Veterans Affairs, and tasked our new board with investigating and eliminating instances of abuse and neglect at our states veterans facilities.

At the Department of Human Services, we've implemented the Pinnacle Plan, a comprehensive strategy to better protect and serve children in state custody, and place them with loving foster families.

And we've offered increased resources for programs assisting those suffering from mental health issues, including drug abuse and addiction – helping people get the treatment they need to rejoin their families and communities as productive, happy members of society.

For non-violent offenders in our prison population, we are working hard to offer treatment and rehabilitation – to be as “smart on crime” as we are “tough on crime.” I'm looking forward to a renewed partnership between the Department of Corrections, the Legislature and my office, as we work with the agency and its new director to evaluate and improve our smart on crime initiatives, including the Justice Reinvestment Initiative.

All of these actions, along with the priorities I will outline today, are aimed at improving quality of life, creating jobs and building a more prosperous state.

We know we're on the right track, because the policies we've implemented over the last three years are working.

Oklahomans are getting back to work and earning more.

That 7.2 percent unemployment rate is now down to 5.4 percent.

Oklahoma families have seen their incomes rise by over 6.3 percent since January 2011. That's 44 percent higher than the national average and second only to North Dakota.

By the way, I'm not ready to concede bragging rights to North Dakota, because they wouldn't be number one without Oklahoma companies like Continental Resources leading an energy revolution with their work in the Bakken Shale.

Our fiscal house is once again in order. Our Rainy Day savings account has grown from pocket change to over $570 million. It stands today at $530 million, only because this Legislature acted – wisely and compassionately – to appropriate funds for tornado recovery and reconstruction after last year's storms.

With over a half billion dollars remaining in that account, Oklahoma has a real safety net should we face another natural disaster or economic crisis.

We are now a top ten state for net migration gains, meaning people, businesses and jobs from across the country are moving to Oklahoma.

Together we have achieved great successes in the face of considerable challenges.

I'm proud of the way Oklahomans have responded to unexpected challenges, sometimes even hardships.

Of course, we have seen our share in the last year. There was no greater challenge or hardship than the one we experienced last May, when a series of tornadoes swept across central Oklahoma.

The loss of life – especially the loss of children – was devastating.

I will never forget the unbearable grief I saw when I met with mothers and fathers who had lost a child, or the scream of a woman who had just learned her husband had been killed.

But I will also never forget the brave and compassionate actions of so many of our citizens: men and women taking complete strangers into their homes and offering them a place to sleep and a warm meal; Oklahomans, and even people from neighboring states, dropping everything to volunteer their time and resources to help the recovery effort.

I remember walking through the rubble of Plaza Towers Elementary School as first responders worked desperately through the night, risking their own safety to clear rubble and cut through concrete in the hopes of uncovering even one more survivor.

Some of those first responders are here, and I want to recognize them for their work, their bravery and their service to the state.

Please join me in applauding them for their work, and applauding all the first responders and volunteers who helped us last May and continue to help us in times of crisis.

Because of the efforts of men and women like these, today we are rebuilding and well on our way to recovery.

Communities like Moore, El Reno and Bethel Acres are open for business again. Main Streets across central Oklahoma struck by tornadoes are once again thriving.

We owe that success to our resilient, hardworking people. They are, as we say, Oklahoma Strong.

Our schools are also being made safer and stronger.

The Briarwood and Plaza Towers elementary schools are being rebuilt – with safe rooms.

Our challenge moving forward is to improve safety in all of our schools.

That process began by identifying our current needs. To help with that, the Department of Emergency Management is conducting voluntary safety assessments for districts that request them – helping evaluate the safety of our schools and offering recommendations for possible safety upgrades.

Next, we need to act to ensure that our schools have the means to pay for these upgrades.

Last week I announced my support for House Joint Resolution 1092, authored by Representatives Mark McBride and Jon Echols. House Joint Resolution 1092 is a Constitutional Amendment allowing every school district to pursue a one-time increase in bonding capacity to fund upgrades like storm shelters, safe rooms, and protections against dangerous intruders.

Oklahoma has approximately 1800 schools, each built differently, each with its own unique needs. This measure preserves local control, allowing each school district and community to make their own decisions about how to address those needs.

Some schools will wish to build safe rooms while others will retrofit existing structures to withstand tornadoes. Schools that already have safe rooms or storm shelters may choose to focus on security precautions to protect their children from intruders.

This is a responsible plan for improving safety and security at our schools.

We aren't forcing new taxes on Oklahoma families or businesses. We aren't passing new mandates. Most importantly, we are making our schools safer.

I applaud the citizens and legislators who have engaged on this issue, exploring policies to help protect our children by improving school safety. I believe our plan offers the best, most realistic way to fund storm shelters and other safety and security upgrades.

Others may disagree, but we should all remember that we share a common goal: to better protect our children and educators, and to save lives.

Not only do we want our schools to be safe, we also want them to provide each child in Oklahoma with a world-class education.

In fact, improving the quality and outcomes in education is the single most important thing we can do to attract and retain jobs, alleviate poverty, and help Oklahomans have fulfilling and productive lives.

Here's a fact: the best indicator of personal income is educational attainment. Similarly, the best predictor of social problems like drug use, teen pregnancy and crime is educational attainment.

For many, education is the best and only path out of poverty.

Our job as a state is to empower our students, parents and teachers by setting the bar high and challenging each other to succeed. I believe that every child can learn.

No child should ever fail to get a world-class education because our policymakers believe success is too difficult.

That's why we need to work relentlessly on two fronts:

First, we must continue to improve K-12 public school results.

We know that we are graduating high school seniors who aren't ready for the workforce or college. That has to change.

Second, we have to increase the number of Oklahomans who continue their education beyond high school, either by attending college or a career technology center. A high school diploma is not enough.

Today in Oklahoma, only one-third of all jobs are available to those with just an academic high school diploma or less. And the majority of those jobs pay less than $25,000 a year.

The "new minimum" for success is education beyond high school. Many Oklahomans are falling short of this new minimum.

That's not just a problem; it's a crisis.

We are taking active steps to address this crisis; and it is essential we continue to move forward.

For instance, too often, we set up children for failure by sending them on to higher grades without the reading skills they need. We've changed course – by requiring that third graders learn to read before moving on to the fourth grade.

We've also implemented the A-F grading system that lets parents, students, teachers and administrators know how their school is performing.

To those who say that system is unfair or can't work, I say look at U.S. Grant High School here in Oklahoma City.

This is an urban, inner-city school. It faces all the challenges that we associate with a school in that category, both here and throughout the country.

Four years ago, it would have been an "F" school. It was failing our children, and it was producing outcomes that were embarrassing for the students, parents and faculty.

They decided enough is enough. They made changes. They engaged parents and students; revamped their teaching models; and reset expectations.

And today this is a B+ school and my bet is it will soon be an A school.

Today we have U.S. Grant High School Principal Clay Vinyard here with some of his students and teachers. Thank you all for the great work you are doing in school. Let's give them a round of applause! And while we're at it, let's give every student working hard to better themselves, and every teacher and administrator in this state who are working to help give our children a better future a round of applause as well!

To support teachers and students like these, we're also working on increasing rigor in classrooms and raising the standards to levels required by college and the workplace.

In 2010, the Legislature voted to adopt new, higher standards in English and math, and those new Oklahoma standards will be fully implemented this year.

The new standards focus on critical thinking – the kind of skills our children need to get a job or to succeed in higher levels of education.

While we are raising standards, we aren't telling teachers how to teach that lesson or what books to use.

Those are decisions that will always be made locally.

And here's the pay-off: we will start graduating seniors that are truly ready for the workforce AND for college or a career technology education.

To continue to inspire innovation at the local level, CareerTech is introducing a performance-based funding strategy to increase the number of Oklahomans earning certificates and gaining wealth-building jobs.

We've already begun to see more Oklahomans earn college degrees or career technology certificates, thanks in large part to a program we have implemented called Complete College America.

When I launched Complete College America with the Oklahoma higher education and CareerTech communities two years ago, we set of goal of increasing the number of career certificates and degrees awarded by 1,700 per year.

We didn't just meet that goal, we vastly exceeded it, awarding over 2,900 degrees and certificates in the first year of implementation.

That's 2,900 more men and women now on a path to pursue their dreams and enter the workforce as teachers, engineers, civil servants or entrepreneurs.

Our goal is to continue to build that momentum for greater educational achievement in Oklahoma.

Now, as you know, our general revenue fund is lower this year than was estimated.

We are on a tight budget, as we should be.

But good education requires appropriate funding. That's why I am proposing a $50 million increase to help students at our K-12 schools.

I have, however, proposed targeted cuts to most agencies.

These cuts are necessary. For decades, policymakers have skimmed off the top of our general revenue fund, apportioning money to programs supporting education, road-and-bridge construction, and other priorities. Over time, that's reduced the general revenue fund, leaving the Legislature with less money to appropriate even as total gross revenue collections continue to rise. Lawmakers now have direct control of less than fifty percent of state dollars.

The dip in general revenue also reflects the uncertainty coming from Washington: sequestration, the government shutdown, and the tax increases and financial chaos created by Obamacare.

So for all these reasons, my budget proposes targeted spending cuts and asks our agencies to continue to find ways to operate more efficiently and effectively and to cut waste.

In the coming days and weeks, we know what we'll hear.

Those who like bigger government and higher taxes will say the sky is falling. Entrenched interest groups and even some agency heads may say the same thing.

But guess what? It's not. The cuts we've proposed this year amount to five percent or less of agency budgets, and in total amount to about one percent of state spending.

Any business worth its salt can find five percent costs savings without crippling the services it provides.

Families have to make the same choices all the time.

When I was a single mother, I had to take care of my children while cutting a whole lot more than 5 percent from my family budget. I know most Oklahomans have had to make the same kind of tough budgeting choices at times, and we manage.

And here's what Oklahoma state agencies have that families don't:

On average, state government has a combined $830 million every year in accounts called "revolving funds." Many agencies can support critical programs and operation by tapping into these funds.

State government must be more transparent and accountable in its budgeting, and shedding light on revolving funds will help to achieve that goal.

Of course, ultimately what makes state government work is our people. My mother was a social worker with DHS and my father worked with the unemployed at the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission.

State government needs to be able to attract and retain hardworking, dedicated Oklahomans like them.

And to do that, it needs to compensate its employees fairly.

Last year we commissioned a state employee salary and benefits study. The study showed the total salary and benefits package we give to the average state employee is roughly equivalent to those given out in other states. On average, we spend the same amount of money per employee.

But the way we spend that money is lopsided. Many employees working for the state of Oklahoma have salaries far below both the private sector and other states; meanwhile their health care and other benefits are far more generous.

That may have been a good pay model to attract qualified workers in the 1970s, but it is not today.

So to fix that problem, I am proposing a number of reforms:

First, we should begin offering targeted salary increases to some state employees paid below market value. I have included money to do so within my budget.

Second, we should reform our current pay system to one that rewards performance over time-served. Doing so will encourage better productivity and services.

And finally, new hires within the Oklahoma Public Employees Retirement System should be moved from an outdated, mid-20th century pension system and to the more portable and flexible 401k-style benefits used in the private sector.

Businesses made this change a long time ago, recognizing that the old pension model didn't appeal to a more mobile workforce in today's modern economy. It's time for state government to stop playing catch-up.

Moving to a defined contribution model helps us to modernize and accomplishes two important goals.

First, it allows flexibility for future public employees to take the money they have accrued with them if they change careers. That helps us to make state employment more attractive and aids in recruitment.

Second, it stabilizes the system for current public employees and retirees. Oklahoma pension systems currently have $11 billion in unfunded liabilities. The system as it stands today is not financially sound or sustainable.

It's important we shore up our pension systems so we can pay out the benefits we have promised to our retirees.

Just as it's our responsibility to help maintain a motivated and skilled workforce in state government, it's also our responsibility to maintain and preserve state buildings and assets.

In the case of the state Capitol, we are failing in that goal.

In fact, this building has become a safety hazard. We are doing a great disservice to our state and its citizens by allowing the Capitol to crumble around us.

The exterior is falling apart, to the point where we must actually worry about state employees and visitors – including teachers and students on field trips - being hit by falling pieces of the façade.

The yellow barriers outside are an eyesore and an embarrassment.

The electrical system is dangerously outdated.

And guys, the water stains you've seen on some of the walls downstairs? I have bad news for you. That's not just water.

Raw sewage is literally leaking into our basement. On "good" days, our visitors and employees can only see the disrepair. On bad days, they can smell it.

We must begin repairing the People's House now.

The best, most realistic way to accomplish this is through a bond issue.

A bond issue could not come at a better time. Interest rates are low. Most importantly, 41 percent of the state's bond indebtedness will come off the books in 2018, and over 86 percent will be eliminated in the next 13 years.

July of this year will represent the 100-year anniversary of the groundbreaking of this building. Let's make sure we can celebrate that historic landmark knowing that we have taken action to improve its condition, not sit idly by while it crumbles and falls apart.

Passing a bond issue is the right thing to do. I have put money towards bond issue payments in my executive budget, and I'm asking the Legislature to pass a bond issue and send it to my desk as soon as possible.

The things I've addressed today - protecting our children, improving education, adequately compensating state employees, modernizing our pension system and maintaining the state Capitol – all fall under the category of smart, responsible government.

If we do these things, Oklahoma can offer a contrast to the government Americans everywhere are so disillusioned with: the kind we see in Washington.

Washington is leading this country in the wrong direction, but Oklahoma isn't about to follow.

In fact, we can offer a model to the rest of this country of what sound, common sense, conservative governance looks like.

That starts with categorically and unequivocally rejecting Obamacare and the drastic expansion of government-funded and government-run health care within it.

Rejecting Obamacare does not mean we are uninterested in the health of Oklahomans. We have worked hard to improve health outcomes and will continue to do so.

For instance, I am continuing to push for a waiver making Insure Oklahoma a permanent program. Insure Oklahoma helps 20,000 low-income, working Oklahomans purchase health insurance. Yet the federal government is constantly threatening to end the program, despite its proven success. That must stop.

I'm also committed to working with this Legislature to pursue Medicaid reform. There are a lot of great, innovative ideas and policy solutions coming from the men and women in this room, and we will continue to explore them.

I'm looking forward to continuing our work with private insurers, our healthcare industry and businesses to transform our "sick care system" – one that only helps people after they've fallen ill - into one that truly improves health outcomes by emphasizing preventative care and healthy living.

We also need to continue to encourage access to appropriate levels of care. Far too many people with non-critical health problems are receiving expensive, unnecessary treatment in emergency rooms.

Expanding Medicaid, as President Obama has proposed, does not solve this problem. In fact, it makes it worse.

The cost of Medicaid growth and expansion is astronomical: an estimated $850 million for the state of Oklahoma over a number of years, and over $1.3 trillion for the nation. The president's plan is unworkable and unaffordable.

We cannot plunge this nation further into debt, or place Oklahoma on a fiscally unsound path, by expanding Medicaid. Both the president's plan and alternative proposals that rely on federal dollars in the Affordable Care Act amount to the same thing: a dramatic growth in unsustainable government spending.

Washington wants to lead this nation in the wrong direction – but Oklahomans will not be led astray. We will find our own way forward, a better way.

That goes for tax policy as well.

Washington has taken every opportunity to raise our taxes.

We should take every opportunity to lower them.

I believe responsibly lowering the income tax is the right thing to do. This is the people's money; it should stay with the people. It is the people and the private sector, not state government, that are the true engines of job creation. When we lower taxes we allow them to invest in their businesses, spend dollars in the economy, and help to create Oklahoma jobs.

So this legislative session I have included in my budget an additional quarter-point income tax reduction that will return over $100 million to the state economy once fully realized.

Let's take this opportunity to show our country that lower taxes and limited government do work. We believe in them for a reason. The Oklahoma Way – not the Washington Way – is the best way to support economic growth and help middle class Americans.

What I have outlined today is my plan to build upon this state's momentum: to help Oklahoma families find good jobs that pay well; to protect our children and provide them with the necessary tools for success in life and in the work force; to responsibly manage taxpayer dollars; and to demonstrate that responsible, productive government does exist, even if Washington is doing its best to prove otherwise.

In Oklahoma, we have a long history of working together to solve problems. A long history of resilience, generosity, compassion and, ultimately, success.

Let's work together to write the next chapter in that Oklahoma history, and ensure we are leaving our children with a state that is better, stronger and more prosperous than the one we inherited.

Thank you for your dedication to the state and for giving me the honor of serving as your governor.

Upon motion of Representative Peterson, the Joint Session was ordered dissolved at the hour of 1:45 p.m.
